Refers to Proposals That Were

Quotes Friendly Sentiments

WASHINGTON, Aug. 28.—The supplementary note sent by Federico Gamboa, Mexican secretary of state for foreign affairs to John Lind at Vera Cruz on the night of August 16, was made public here. It follows in part:

"Yesterday I had the honor of receiving from your hands a note in which you are pleased to state that, from the scope of your instructions you reply to the note of this government, given to you through me of the 16th inst. You are pleased to repeat those same instructions, the paragraph which translated says literally:

"We wish to act in the present circumstances under the inspiration of the most lively and distinguished friendship. We propose in all we do or say by reason of this serious situation not only to maintain the most scrupulous respect for the sovereignty and independence of Mexico—and we consider ourselves obliged to that respect by all the considerations of honor and right—but as well to give all possible proofs that we are working only in the interests of Mexico and not for any person or group of persons who might have claims relating to themselves or to their properties in this country and who might consider themselves with a right to demand their settlement. What we intend is to counsel Mexico for her own good and in the interest of her own peace and with no other object of any kind. The government of the United States would consider itself discredited if it had in mind any selfish or ulterior motive, considering that the negotiations in hand concern the peace, welfare and prosperity of a whole people. We are working, not with selfish interest but

SECOND OFFICER WAS SUFFOCATED

When Largest Vessel Afloat Was Swept by Fire—Panic in Steerage—Seaman Seriously Injured

NEW YORK, Aug. 26.—The steamer Imperator, largest vessel afloat, was swept by fire early today as she lay at her dock in Hoboken with her crew and 1131 steerage passengers aboard. Second Officer Gobrecht, who led the crew into the hold to fight the flames, was cut off from his men, enveloped in a cloud of smoke and suffocated. His body was found an hour afterwards, untouched by fire and brought ashore.

A seaman, one of the party who went down with Gobrecht into the bowels of the vessel, was missing at rollcall. He undoubtedly perished, too. The small army in the steerage, aroused from their sleep by the crackling flames, rushed, panic-stricken for the pier. Most of them returned to the ship for their clothing when reassured by the ship's officers and spent the remainder of the night huddled in discomfort at the shore end of the pier. None of the steerage passengers had been inspected by the customs or health authorities. Because of this,

In all parts of the city there was a great air of expectation this morning previous to the parade of the annual muster of the Veteran Firemen's association, and the hopes that were aroused by memories of previous affairs in this city were not disappointed. The weather was glorious. There was a warmth in the air unusual at this time of year, but it was not of the oppressive variety that would impose hardship on the marching veterans or on the thousands that lined the streets.

Many of the tubs and their crews arrived last night and others came here at an early hour this morning. As the trains from all directions pulled into the depot in that vicinity became more and more animated. Groups of strangers accompanied the out-of-town delegations, and it is safe to say that besides the estimated 2000 veterans in parade, thousands of those hose wagons, all fully manned, a steamer, 4 trucks, the water tower, the protector, two chemicals and some minor pieces of apparatus. Fire Chief Saunders, who rode at the head of the line in his department automobile, received a great ovation all along the line as the local department came in to view. With him was Police Chief Redmond Welch, who rode in his carriage.

Platoon of Police
Immediately after the local fire department came a platoon of police on foot. The officers comprising this body were: Patrolmen Kenney, Cullen, Winn, Crow, Hessian, Considine, Nickles, Noonan, and Lieutenant Connors. Next in order came the chief of staff, Patrick H. Ryan, Adjutant, Thomas O'Brien, and twenty aids, all on horseback. The chief of staff wore a broad lavender sash, and the adjutant was distinguished by one of a rich dark red.

The Aids to Chief Marshal
The aids, who looked splendid as right and left respectively, wore the scarlet uniform of the Butler vets, who, to the number of about 80, followed, walking erect and in perfect order. They drew the famous Liberty tub, which, despite the great variety of ancient machines present, kept the interest of the Lowell populace all along the line of march. One of the most picturesque individuals in the parade was A. E. Curtis, grandson of the famous old veteran Thomas H. Curtis. Mr. Curtis represented his grandfather in the present instance and wore the celebrated old hat of the latter, which is over 10 years old. Lowell was also represented well by the juvenile branch of the Butler Vets who, to the number of 50, approximately, followed, pulling the ancient and quaint Wamecit tub, which is usually on exhibition in the Middle street office of the fire chief.

Out of Town Companies
The first out of town company in the parade was the Triumph No. 1 of Berwick, Me., which seemed to appreciate the honor of being first in line.

who made a solid wall from the depot to the final destination at the North common were friends of the various competing companies from out of town. With a few exceptions, all of the 27 machines that were scheduled to appear in parade had put in an appearance at the junction of Branch and Middlesex streets at 10 o'clock. They fell into line with great order and when the chief marshal of the parade, Fred H. Rourke, gave the word to march, there was absolutely no hesitation or confusion; the long and much varied line got in motion with accuracy and precision.

Lowell Fire Department
The first feature of the parade, and one that aroused exclamations of admiration on all sides, was the apparatus of the Lowell fire department. The various modern machines made a splendid appearance as they filed past with their brilliant colors, their shining brasses, and their alert and neatly uniformed men. All of the local department practically was represented, with the exception of a few pieces that were kept in the downtown fire houses for a possible emergency. There were 12

they rode three abreast, were the following: John J. Lee, Henry Reynolds, Charles H. Morse, Arthur Kings, Len Molloy, Jeremiah Connors, Newell F. Putnam, John W. Daly, Edward Morris, Joseph H. Burns, Terrence Leonard, Herbert E. Elliott, Patrick Cogger, Erson B. Barlow, J. J. O'Connell, H. J. Thompson, J. Walter Bowers, Alex. Mackenzie, John Brady, Daniel Lenty.

Mayor O'Donnell
Immediately after the aids came four carriages in which rode the high officers and past officers of the association. Mayor O'Donnell rode in the first of these. He also received a great ovation from the assembled crowds. Next in order came the Spindale City band in their gay uniforms playing with a vigor that betokened their consciousness of being followed by Chief Marshal Fred H. Rourke, James H. Walker, president of the association, and Humphrey O'Sullivan.

Chief Marshal Rourke
Chief Marshal Rourke walked in the center wearing a frock coat and silk hat and President Walker and Humphrey O'Sullivan who walked on his

Following them came the Eureka veterans' band which preceded the Eureka tub No. 1, of Portsmouth, N. H. After this company, which made a fine appearance, came the Converse of Malden, which arrived late and was not in line at the time of starting, but got in line before the parade had proceeded very far.

The West Newton life and drum corps marched in front of the Nonantum of that city. Immediately afterwards came the GINGER of Jamaica Plain, which in the splendor of its crew lived up to its name.

The Revere life and drum corps accompanied the 30 men of the Paul Revere tub of Revere, Mass., was next in line.

With the possible exception of our own Wamecit tub there was not a more ancient appearing or more picturesque piece of apparatus in line than No. 2, the Hingham Vol of Hingham, Mass. With it came a crew that seemed to number about 60.

SHERBROOKE, Que., Aug. 28.—Louis St. Laurent, the lawyer retained by the Thaw family to defend "Gentleman Rogers" Thompson, left Sherbrooke suddenly today for Quebec in an attempt to head off William Travers Jerome and Deputy Attorney General Franklin Kennedy of New York, who went to Quebec yesterday in an endeavor to enlist the aid of Sir Lomer Gouin, premier of the province of Quebec, in their efforts to deport Thaw.

While St. Laurent is not the most prominent of the Thaw defenders, his home is in Quebec and he is the only one of the Thaw legal contingent who is a liberal in politics. Sir Lomer Gouin is a liberal.

PLAYOUT ON NO. COMMON

The Companies in Hot Competition

The playout contest started shortly after 12 o'clock. The different tubs were drawn up on a wooden platform, erected near the Cross street end of the common and the nozzle of the hose pointed toward Clark street. The stream was pumped through about 200 feet of hose pipe and a wooden rack was placed on the ground and covered with paper. The paper would absorb the water and in that way the judges could easily measure the number of feet from the nozzle of the hose to the most distant point on the paper that the water had reached.

Twenty-seven companies were scheduled to take part but five did not put in an appearance and only twenty-one contested.

The scores as made by the different companies were as follows:

From Sky to River

FALL RIVER, Aug. 28.—The falling of a meteor from the sky into the waters of the Sequonnet river, churning up the waters in the vicinity, is reported from Tiverton, six miles from here, as having caused great excitement.

Those who chanced to be eye-witnesses say that steam rose from the water in great volume, and the explosion that accompanied sounded like the firing of a 12-inch gun.

PRESIDENT'S MESSAGE

Having a Good Effect in Mexico

WASHINGTON, Aug. 28.—After an early conference with Secretary Bryan and Senator Bacon of the foreign relations committee President Wilson has it is known that the Mexican situation is encouraging. The president thinks things are changing in Mexico and that something tangible will soon be known. There was no evidence here early today that the Huerta government had agreed to the American plan but the disposition of the Mexican administration to withdraw some of its proposals has encouraged the belief in official circles that the president's message is having a good effect in Mexico.

NATL. ORGANIZER OF CARPENTERS

Mr. Hanigan Visits Lowell and Commends Union Contract—Says it Prevents Strikes

Mr. John Hanigan, of Worcester, general organizer for the Carpenters' union of America, was in town yesterday and expressed himself as well pleased with the manner in which the organization is handled in this city.

"I am opposed to strikes and lock-outs," he said, "and approve most heartily of the three year contract that is usually made between our men and the contractors."

If the other building trades would all adopt the same method of adjusting differences with their employers there would be very few tie-ups in the building business. It would be better for the contractors as well as the men, for no contractor can figure ahead if he is confronted with uncertainty among

SIX MEN SHOT AND TWO FATALLY INJURED

STEVENSVILLE, O., Aug. 28.—Six men were shot and two probably fatally injured in a riot at the Pope tin mill last night when the police fired into two thousand strikers who threatened to rush the mill. The most seriously hurt were Joseph Miller and John Doran, strikers. Chief of Police Frank Hauser was hit in the head with backshot.

ave of his men. When they got the monster to the surface they gaffed him while he was trying to overturn their boat.

As he turned over on his back dead it was decided that he was too big to get into the boat to take ashore, so it was decided to cut him open and take ashore a full length section to prove his size.

Fishermen always cut open sharks to see what they have inside of them. The shark's belly was awash with the boat's gunwale when the knife was applied, and Capt. Combes and his five men were horrified to see the foot of a woman fall out of the stomach into the boat. They released the shark's carcass and took the foot ashore.

Mr. O'Brien was fishing near by in a pleasure boat and he said Tuesday that he not only had seen the foot, but the shark from which it was cut. He said the foot had been bitten off of a woman's leg between the knee and the ankle, and that all of the stocking had come away with it.

"From the condition of the foot and the shoe it could not have been in the shark's stomach long; perhaps he swallowed it on Sunday," said Mr. O'Brien. "If the woman was dead when he swallowed her foot she could not have been dead long."

No reports were found of any woman who had lost a foot through an encounter with a shark. One of the puzzling things was that the foot was said to have a shoe on it, proving the woman was not a bather. She might have fallen overboard and then been attacked by the shark.

SENATOR LA FOLLETTE

Predicts Retirement of N. H. Senator

WASHINGTON, Aug. 28.—In a verbal tilt, marked by intense bitterness on both sides, Senator La Follette yesterday predicted the retirement of Senator Gallinger of New Hampshire, the republican leader, and others of "his type" because of their alleged failure to adjust themselves to changing industrial conditions.

The colleague followed Senator La Follette's declaration that republican senators who were voting against a heavier income tax on big incomes included many who had "always opposed the establishment of any income tax."

He was commenting upon the defeat of the Bristol amendment, proposing a tax running up to 10 per cent, on incomes of $100,000; and against which 13 republicans and the solid democratic side had voted.

"I am sorry there is a division on the republican side," said La Follette. "There is a new day coming in this country. If the republican party will not see it and take its place will be taken by some party that will."

He recalled that he had predicted some "vacant seats" six or seven years ago and the prediction had been fulfilled.

It is true that some senators have disappeared from this side, retorted Senator Gallinger, "and it is equally true that the republican party has been put out of power by some men who sympathize with the senator from Wisconsin in his extreme views."

The republican party has been put out of power by the people of this country who sympathize with the views which I am now expressing," cried Senator La Follette, shaking his hand, "and they will put more men out of the senate of the type of the senator from New Hampshire before we get through with the disposition of these issues."

The defeat of the Bristol amendment by a vote of 45 to 16 came at the end of a short debate during which many republicans had urged a heavier tax on the larger incomes of the country. The democrats voted solidly against the change, as they had done in the case of the Borah amendment yesterday, when they were joined by the following republicans:

Senators Bradley, Brandegee, Catron, Cull, Gallinger, Lodge, McLean, Oliver, Penrose, Root, Smart, Townsend and Weeks.

Senator La Follette proposed another amendment as soon as this was defeated, changing the basis of tax. It proposed an increase of one-half of one per cent, on each $10,000 up to $50,000; an increase of one per cent, on each $50,000 from $50,000 to $100,000; and a jump from seven per cent, to 10 per cent, for all incomes above $100,000.

Children Stunned

EVERETT, Aug. 18.—Eight children under 13 years of age who sought shelter in the new municipal bath house during a severe electrical storm yesterday were stunned when lightning struck the building. Three of them were seriously injured.

Anthony Rescio, aged 7, was taken to the Whidden Memorial hospital last night. His left side is paralyzed and his body hurt from the foot to the neck. Peter Russo, aged 8, is severely burned, and Alfredo Montrosson, aged 11, suffered burns to her right foot.

After Vacation Peel Your Discolored Skin

(From Broadway Weekly)

Women returning from the seaside with browned, reddened or freckled complexions will be wise in immediately taking up the mercollized wax treatment. Weatherbeaten skin had best come off for no amount of "beautifying" will ever make such skin pretty to look at.

The surest, safest, easiest way to shed the despoiled cuticle is with the treatment suggested. Put the wax on before retiring, as you would cold cream, and rinse it off next morning with warm water. Minute particles of scurf skin will peel off day by day, gradually showing the healthy, youthful skin beneath. One ounce of mercollized wax, obtainable at any drug store, is enough to make any discolored or spotted complexion clear, white and satiny soft.

Its action is so gentle no injury is caused and the face shows no trace of its use.

Burning heat, irritating winds and dirt are such wrinkle-makers that the daily use of the following astringent lotion at this season is highly advisable: Powdered saxolite, 1 oz., dissolved in lukewarm water. Use the face bath this is a splendid wrinkle remover and preventive.

HELL'S CARNIVAL

Over Silt Skirt—London Pastor Says Devil Would Enjoy a Walk on Broadway

NEW YORK, Aug. 28.—"I am sure the devil is having a carnival in hell with the styles worn by the women in the streets of New York city today," declared the Rev. Dr. Len G. Broughton, pastor of Christ church, Westminster, London, in his sermon at the Tent Evangel, One Hundred and Twenty-fourth street, near Amsterdam avenue. "Certainly, if I were the devil, I would not enjoy anything so much as a walk up Broadway or Fifth avenue looking at the silt skirts and other new styles of women's dress."

The way Dr. Broughton came to mention silt skirts and speak about the very tight and quite transparent gowns now worn by many women was that the text for his sermon was: "Shall We Know Our Loved Ones in Heaven?" His surmise was that those who wear the silt skirts will not be recognized in heaven because they won't get there.

"Until very recently I never knew a woman who was not interested in jewels and clothes," he continued. "But now they have lost their interest in clothing and are going around the streets without any on. I don't know any place where the devil could be happier than in New York this summer, where the prevailing fashion for women is to wear as few clothes as possible and make those few as short as possible and transparent as possible. These things lead only to the devil. They tempt men, and no woman ever fell without the aid of a man."

At this point many women in the large audience applauded. But there are others who did not applaud and who might have frowned.

Perjury Charged

BOSTON, Aug. 28.—Waiving examination, Thomas H. Smith was held yesterday in $1000 for the September term of the federal grand jury on the charge of perjury by United States Commissioner Hayes. Ball was furnished by the prisoner's mother.

Smith is charged with making alleged false statements as a bondman for Nellie Guertin, who was arrested as a fugitive from New York. It is alleged that he claimed to be the owner of property in East Bridgewater assessed at $11,296, whereas he was not of such value.

Miss Guertin was the plaintiff in a case brought against the Mason-Beaman Transportation company of New York to recover $3,000 damages for alleged injuries received by her in a collision between two automobiles in New York, and she and three others were indicted in New York for perjury.

NEW HAVEN BOND PLEA

Public Service Hearing on $67,000,000 Issue

BOSTON, Aug. 28.—The public service commission has taken its first action in the matter of the issue of securities by the New Haven by designating Sept. 9 as the date for the hearing upon the petition of the railroad for authority to issue debenture bonds to the amount of $67,000,000.

The proposed bond issue of the New Haven under the authority of the commission which derives its powers from the recently enacted Washburn bill, have been widely discussed since the bill made its appearance in the legislature.

Gov. Foss vetoed the Washburn bill on the ground that the authority to approve bond issues should not have been coupled with that part of the act which created the public service commission.

When the bill had been passed over the governor's veto, Louis D. Brandeis wrote to the public service commission in protest against the issue of further securities.

Before Sept. 9, the governor will name a public service commissioner to succeed George Lawrence, who has just resigned. The governor did not send in his expected list of appointments yesterday.

It had been stated that he would appoint his secretary, George M. Harlow of Boston, to succeed the late Commissioner Emery. But the governor observed yesterday that there was to be no hurry about the matter.

The governor sent the following nominations to the council:

Charles L. Hubbard of Pittsfield, as justice of the district court of Central Berkshire in place of the late Judge Charles E. Burke.

Bernard Whitney of Dedham to succeed Charles J. Collins of South Boston on the board of registration in optometry. Under the law Mr. Collins could not be reappointed.

The executive council also voted to give a hearing upon the development of the port of Boston next Wednesday morning at 10 o'clock. The chamber of commerce, the real estate exchange and the directors of the port of Boston have been invited to attend.

The hearing is the result of a protest received from the Massachusetts Real Estate Exchange. It contends that the governor and council should not assent to proposed expenditures by the port directors until the directors have submitted plans for "the comprehensive development of the harbor."

The exchange says that the legislature provided that such plans should first be produced.

THE SOCIALIST PARTY

An Ohio Judge Says it Causes Crime

CINCINNATI, Aug. 28.—Common Pleas Judge Wade Cushing, who has been presiding in the criminal court during the summer vacation season, said in discussing his action in suspending the sentence of two foreigners on condition that they be deported to Germany, whence they came, "I don't doubt if the men realize the alarming increase in the number of criminals the courts are called on to deal with, and in particular, the criminals who come to Cincinnati from other cities and other countries. To get them out of the country is the best thing possible."

"The great increase in the number of criminals coming to Cincinnati is due to the spread of socialism. The teachings of this 'ism' are such as appeal to the criminal classes. The fact that socialists are being made more welcome than heretofore in Cincinnati has attracted them from other cities and other countries."

Judge Cushing declares his belief that the socialists are back of the woman's suffrage movement in this country.

"The socialists see that it is a means of increasing their own strength," the judge said. "By adding the woman vote to the present male vote, the strength of the socialists will be more than proportionately strengthened. The women members of that organization are just as radical as the men."

GIRL DONS TROUSERS

Couldn't Work for $6.00 and Walk Straight Path

NEW YORK, Aug. 28.—"I admit I'm a girl," said a young person who stood the test of the war in the Adams street police court in tight blue serge trousers, a coat of the same material, a man's silk shirt and wing collar, and tan shoes and silk socks. "I've been masquerading as a man so that I might make more money and live better than I could as a woman."

Magistrate Voorhees looked curiously at the prisoner—"Catherine Clark," she said she was, then admitted that was a fictitious name—and seemed not to know exactly what to do about it. But he held her in $500 bail for a later examination, on the chance that her story wasn't altogether inaccurate.

The young woman was arrested in a saloon in Flushing avenue. For several days the police had been getting reports that a girl masquerading as a man had been frequenting cafes near the navy yard and at last Detective Bridgette spotted her. She was overdoing the part, smoking too much, drinking too much and cussing with too much frequency to be a man.

"I tell you why I did it," said the prisoner to a reporter. "I couldn't live on the $6 a week I was getting as a bookbinder and keep straight at the same time. Men bookbinders who do the same work I was doing got $12 and $15 a week. So I had my hair cut off, put on trousers and determined to get a man's job. I answered an advertisement yesterday and was to have landed a job this morning."

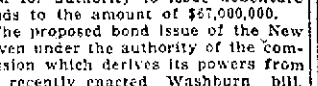

The girl was still in male attire when interviewed. The police and magistrate are very curious to know who she really is, but she refuses to tell anything about herself except that "Catherine Clark is a good enough description."

SCIENTISTS AND EDUCATORS

Say the Time Has Come When Attitude Toward Sex Hygiene Should be Revolutionized

BUFFALO, N. Y., Aug. 25.—Scientists and educators of world wide fame at the fourth international congress on school hygiene, in special session yesterday, agreed with practical unanimity that the time had come when the attitude of the world's educational institutions toward sex hygiene should be revolutionized. They saw in the effects of the past on the subject a growing and real menace to the future of the race that must be combated by a system of education without exaggeration or morbid suggestion. Public opinion, they maintained, has already reached the point where this revolution is demanded.

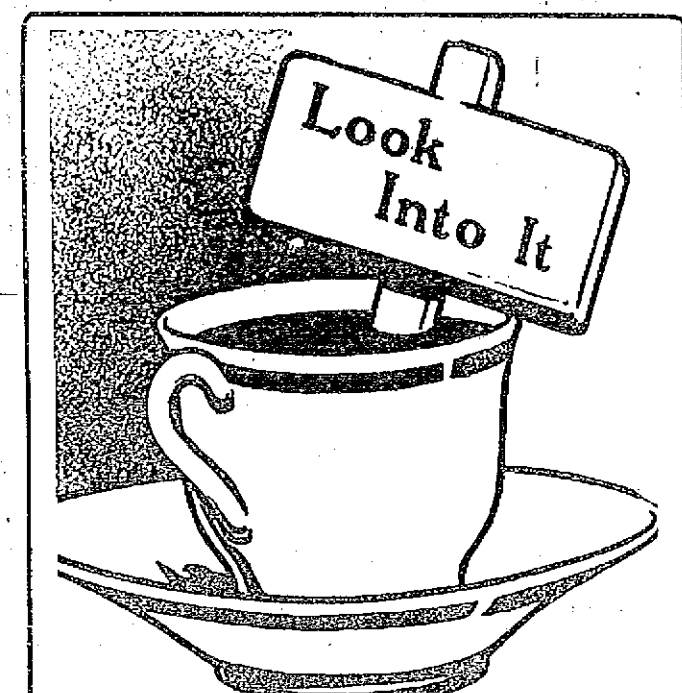

A remarkable change in public opinion has taken place in regard to sex hygiene. Dr. Charles W. Eliot, president of the congress said, "using the term in its broadest sense. The policy of silence was almost universal. Medical discoveries have contributed to the shift in public opinion which also has been moved by the many signs of physical deterioration consequent on the rush to city life. Fathers and mothers feel a new duty toward their

STUDS ARE RETURNED

Louis Bruguere is Surprised by Mail.

NEWPORT, R. I., Aug. 25.—Louis S. Bruguere yesterday recovered the sapphire shirt stud and diamond cuff links which were taken from his automobile while he was at a dinner at Oakland Farms Sunday evening. They came to him by special delivery in an envelope on which there was only Mr. Bruguere's address and the postmark "Newport, Aug. 25, 5 p. m." The shirt stud and links were wrapped separately and neatly in tissue paper of a foreign make, but with nothing on it to indicate where it was obtained. Mr. Bruguere has turned over the envelope and wrapping to the police.

The entire affair is shrouded in mystery. Naturally both Mr. and Mrs. Alfred Vanderbilt are anxious to solve the problem, as Mr. Bruguere brought the extra shirt in his automobile to their dinner last Sunday evening, intending to don fresh linen when he left Oakland Farms, as he was going to the late dance given by Mrs. John Astor, but when he got into the machine and took up the dress suit case which had contained the shirt and studs the shirt was missing. Look Into It

An ordinary cup of coffee contains about 2 1-2 grains of caffeine—a poisonous drug.

Five grains of caffeine is enough to kill a rabbit. Of course that much wouldn't kill a man.

But continual coffee drinking usually produces biliousness, headache, dullness, sleeplessness, irritability and heart agitation. Many people have gotten rid of these troubles by quitting coffee and using

INSTANT POSTUM

It is pure and made entirely of Northern wheat and the juice of Southern sugar-cane. Postum is a genuine food-drink—rich in Nature's phosphates, and contains no drug whatever.

Postum comes in two forms.

Regular Postum (must be boiled.)

Instant Postum requires no boiling, but is made instantly by stirring a level teaspoonful in a cup of hot water with cream and sugar to taste.

Experiment until you get it to suit your taste, then have it always made that way. Made right, Postum has a delightful flavor, resembling high-grade Java.

If coffee don't agree, suppose you leave it off ten days and try Postum.

Drink it instead of coffee.

ORGANIZER FRANK YOUNG

Has Left Lowell—The Machinists to Parade

Organizer Frank Young who came to Lowell about five weeks ago to organize the local machinists has been ordered to Millers Falls, where it is alleged, the pay of the machinists has been reduced.

Mr. Young left this city yesterday, but will keep in touch with conditions here while at Millers Falls. As an organizer it is generally conceded that Mr. Young has few equals. The machinists held an overflow meeting in the Liberator hall Tuesday evening and completed their arrangements for Labor day parade. Michael J. Monahan was elected chief marshal of the machinists' division and Robert Spencer was elected aide to the chief marshal of the parade.

The meeting was addressed by Mr. Young, John Connolly and William Spruille.

MOTOR BOAT RACES

Will be Held on the Merrimack on Labor Day—Race for the Commodore's Cup

The members of the Lowell Motor Boat club held a meeting last night with Vice Commodore Holmes in the chair. The meeting was held for the purpose of completing all arrangements for the Labor Day races, and it is expected that these events will be well enjoyed by a large gathering.

The feature of the day will be the race for the commodore's cup, which was won last year by Dr. Knapp in his "Mary Louise." In order to get possession of this cup it is necessary for one to win it two consecutive years, and inasmuch as it is understood the doctor will not enter the contest this year, the race will prove a hot one. Those scheduled to compete for this cup are Fred Holmes in his "Dorris," Herbert Savage in his "Red Devil," A. E. Brooks in his "Greyhound," and others.

Among the other races will be the "bang and go-bang" race, a six-mile handicap, and a 10-mile speed event, and others. Suitable prizes have been donated for the occasion, and it is believed the races will entice owners of motor boats. Sunday the club will hold an outing at the club grounds upstream.

INDUSTRIAL SCHOOL

Principal Fisher Will Open His Office For Registration Next Week—Pupils From Out of Town

The Lowell Industrial school will re-open on September 8, and Principal Thomas F. Fisher is being kept busy at the present time making the preliminary arrangements for the opening. Many new pupils registered as early as last June and everything indicates an unusually large attendance for the coming year.

With the exception of Labor day all next week will be given over to registration and consultation. The principal's office in the old Mann school will be open from 10:30 a. m. to 1 p. m. for this purpose.

There have been many registrations from out of town thus far, and if last year may be taken as a guide there will be many more as 25 per cent of the registration last year was out of town pupils.

SOCIAL AND FRATERNAL

The Benevolent Order of Buffaloes met in regular session last night at their rooms in the Old Fellows temple with a large number of people present. A crisis of routine business was transacted and the following officers were installed to serve for the coming six months. Past president W. J. Pendergast, president J. E. Hatches, vice president G. H. Crowell, chaplain J. E. McLean, secretary J. E. Lyle, treasurer W. W. Murphy, marshal Robert Dempsey, inside guard H. C. Murray, outside guard J. A. Crossley, trustees J. H. Crook, H. J. Draper and Edward Sheridan, physicians Dr. Wesley Sawyer and Dr. H. B. Platt. Supreme Secretary Charles H. Platt acted as installing officer.

Edna Lodge, N. E. O. P.

The regular meeting of Edna lodge, N. E. O. P., was held last night, and their applications for membership were received. A class initiation is being planned for the next meeting, and it is expected that many visiting officers will be present. Brother Stuart of Edna lodge was present at the meeting and addressed the members on the good of the order.

MAY HEAD ZIONISTS

Boston Man is Favored For Leader

BOSTON, Aug. 25.—That Louis D. Brandeis may become the next active head of the Zionist movement of the world became a leading topic in Hebrew circles yesterday.

His name is to be presented at the 10th international Zionist congress which will be held in Vienna next week. If he is appointed he will fill the place left nine years ago by Dr. Theodore Herzl.

Rabbi H. H. Rubinstein and Julius Meyer of this city are the Massachusetts delegates to the congress. They are pledged to present and urge the name of Mr. Brandeis. It is believed that Mr. Brandeis will receive the appointment and that he will accept it. No expression could be obtained from him last night, and his friends declined to discuss the subject in his absence.

Among the prominent Zionists who declare that Mr. Brandeis will receive and accept the appointment is Isaac Heller of Roxbury. He said last night: "We want Mr. Brandeis. He has been very helpful to us."

His leadership was always apparent in our movement, as it is in law and everything he undertakes. We have known for days that he would be our candidate, and we have reason to hope that he will accept the trust."

Zionism is based upon the idea of internationalism, the preservation of nations, the development of distinctive characters and their peaceful relations. Zionism opposes a vague cosmopolitanism that would reduce all men and nations to one type. As a consequence, it opposes the absorption of the Jew, by the people among whom he lives. Zionism is the expression of the Jew's belief in himself, in his power to be of service to humanity as a Jew.

Should Brandeis be appointed international leader of the Zionist movement, he will be in charge of millions of Zionists of all parts of the world. He will also be in charge of all the branches and be the sole director of the movement.

Last April when Herr Sokolow, the noted Zionist agitator was in Boston, Brandeis presided at the meeting held in the Plymouth theatre. Brandeis' eloquent speech on Zionism was published in the Zionist publications all over the world.

Brandeis was born in Louisville, Ky., in 1856. He is a Jew, and for a century back his family has been made up of men of means, education and social ideals.

MEETING OF PROGRESSIVES

They Are Interested in the Selection of Precinct Officers—Candidates Present

An enthusiastic meeting of the city progressive committee was held at their headquarters, 169 Merrimack street, last night, and committee turned out in full. Chairman Charles H. Johnson was in the chair.

A committee consisting of Captain A. D. Mitten, Cecil Dodge and Edmund P. Fontaine was appointed to interview the finance commissioner, George H. Brown, and consult him on the matter of having progressive precinct officers appointed.

Charles H. McIntyre, candidate for county commissioner, Daniel Casgrove, the party's nominee for lieutenant-governor and several others made short speeches.

PLAYGROUND EXHIBITIONS

Closing Yesterday Postponed Till Friday on Account of the Thunder Storm

On account of the severe rain and electrical storm which hovered over this city in the early part of the afternoon yesterday, the closing exercises on the local playgrounds were postponed until tomorrow afternoon, but nevertheless a good gathering assembled on all the playgrounds, for it was believed the events would be carried out after the storm.

The Middlesex County Training school band, which was scheduled to give a concert on the South common, arrived shortly after the storm, and on account of this corps of young musicians being engaged for tomorrow afternoon, a concert was given and much enjoyed by the large gathering.

On the Aiken street playground Frank Ricard was the man of the hour. Mr. Ricard in the forenoon decorated the summer house with American and French flags and bunting and in the afternoon he conducted a number of races, giving suitable prizes to the winners, those prizes consisting of silver rings, watch fobs, and other little pieces of jewelry as well as some cash. Mr. Ricard was well received by the little ones and at the close of the event he was given three good cheers and a tiger.

Appointed Co-Receiver

BOSTON, Aug. 25.—Judge Robert O. Harris of Bridgeport was appointed co-receiver of the Walpole Tire & Rubber company of Walpole by Judge Dodge in the United States district court yesterday. He will act with Robert M. Fischer of New York.

It was announced by counsel for the creditors' protective committee that at a meeting of the creditors and stockholders committees on Tuesday plans were proposed considering reorganization of the company.

Whitman on Warpath

NEW YORK, Aug. 25.—The reported activity of Tammany Hall in the impeachment proceedings against Governor Sulzer was made a matter of inquiry yesterday by District Attorney Whitman. Former Judge Lynn J. Arnold of Albany, a friend of Mr. Sulzer, conferred with Mr. Whitman, who examined two "investigators" called in by Judge Arnold. Their identity was not disclosed, nor would Mr. Whitman say whether their statements were of value nor discuss the possible scope of the inquiry. It was stated that the names of several Tammany Hall men were mentioned and that Mr. Whitman would have further conversation with Judge Arnold.

Lord Strathcona

NEW YORK, Aug. 25.—Lord Strathcona, Canadian high commissioner in England, who called for this country on Saturday last, has accepted an invitation to attend the annual meeting and banquet of the American Iron Association in Montreal, Sept. 1. The association made public yesterday Lord Strathcona's cable acceptance, sent just before he sailed.

WOMAN WITH MONEY GALORE

Refuses to Eat and Takes Poison With Suicidal Intent—Examined as to Her Sanity

BOSTON, Aug. 28.—Although well supplied with money, a young woman believed to be Miss Mildred Whiting of Philadelphia was removed to a hospital last night in a starving condition and suffering from poison taken with suicidal intent. She was examined today as to her sanity. The physicians say that the woman apparently is a person of refinement. So far as known two quarts of milk is the only nourishment the woman has taken since Aug. 16, when she hired a room in a South End lodging house. This was bought by Mrs. Alice Haskins, the housekeeper, and the lodger paid for it with a two dollar bill, refusing to take any change. The woman said at different times that her "stomach was poisoned" and because of her strange actions Mrs. Haskins called in a physician yesterday. The doctor found that the woman was starving and had taken poison and ordered her taken to a hospital. She insisted on paying for her lodging, for the physician's attendance and for the taxi-cab ride to the hospital.

HOUSES STRUCK BY LIGHTNING

Damage in Several of Suburban Towns During Storm Yesterday—House Was Burned

During the sharp thunderstorm of yesterday lightning struck in several of the suburban towns, but no serious damage was done. The wires on the Nashua line of the Bay State street railway were put out of commission and eighteen cars were held up, some of them having been damaged so much that they had to be towed to the repair shop.

Lightning Struck at Billerica

The thunderstorm that reached Billerica shortly after noon yesterday was one of the most severe in years, and although no serious damage was done houses were struck by lightning and several lives were in danger. A two-tenement house owned by the Talbot mills and situated on Lowell street was struck during the storm and the plaster was torn from the wall and a mirror and other pieces of furniture destroyed, although they did not take fire. The tenements were occupied at the time, but fortunately no one was injured. A house owned by the Boston & Maine railroad and located near the repair shops was struck and the telephone put out of order, but no serious damage resulted. The cables on telephone wires were destroyed and the car service was delayed about an hour during the progress of the storm.

Damage at Westford

The house owned by Samuel H. Balch in Westford was struck by lightning during the storm yesterday afternoon and several boards were ripped off the side of the house, but it did not catch fire. A large elm tree near the center of the town was hit and broken off, while the telephone lines were put out of order by the terrific flashes of lightning.

Boat Struck at Chelmsford

One of the Wilson cottages in Littleton street, Chelmsford, was struck by a bolt of lightning yesterday afternoon, but fortunately very little damage was caused. However, the occupants of the house miraculously escaped with their lives, for the bolt went through the building and into the ground.

The place is occupied by George Crowell and family, and when the bolt struck the house Mrs. Crowell was standing on the piazza talking with a carpenter. The man was thrown to the ground, and Mrs. Crowell received a bad shock.

Struck by Lightning
The barn adjoining the residence of Dr. Edwin L. Farrington on the Boston road, Chelmsford, was struck by lightning yesterday afternoon, but fortunately the damage was slight.

In the course of the heavy storm a bolt of lightning struck the roof of the stable, but on account of the wet condition of the wood the fire was not set. The bolt went through the building and into the ground, without causing much damage.

Mr. Shinkwin's House Burned

Lightning struck the house of Robert Shinkwin in East Chelmsford yesterday, but no serious damage was done. The bolt entered through the chimney and followed the wiring into the cellar. A small fire started but was extinguished by people who were in the house at the time.

of each department, and may be removed at will. The only city officials elected by the council are the city clerk, the purchasing agent and the three assessors, and they are subject to removal at any time the council sees fit to elect someone in their place, for their term of office is unlimited. The commissioners in the city council with Mayor Hurley are Charles Danford, in charge of the department of finance; P. J. Kelley, public works department; Wallace L. Gifford, public property; William H. Colhart, poor and health department. The mayor has charge of the public safety department which consists of the fire department, police and wire departments.

Mayor Hurley said the members of the council meet every Thursday afternoon in the mayor's office, and there they discuss matters which are to be brought before the meeting, which is held on the Friday. They decide upon matters between themselves, and when the business is brought before the regular meeting all is settled in a very short time.

The visitor has served as mayor of Salem in 1901-02-03-04, and is now serving a three-year term, but he says this is his last term, for he is to retire from public life when he has completed his two years as mayor under the new charter. He said this charter was adopted with the intention of defeating Hurley, but he wanted to show them that Hurley was not to be put aside as easily as all that, and the result was that he was elected with a large majority.

"In Salem," said Mayor Hurley, "we have the finest contagious hospital that can be seen in the state. The building was formerly utilized as a wing for the almshouse, but when this institution came under the control of the state, the city retained the wing and converted the same into a contagious hospital. It is almost in the heart of the city and no one complains about it."

"This year we raised the tax limit from 112 to 113, but next year we shall go back to the old limit. The tax rate this year has also gone up $2, and it is now $20.50 per thousand. The population of Salem is 56,000, and there is no license, but nevertheless we get along nicely. And the government is able to meet all current expenses."

Relative to his election, Mayor Hurley said the trouble with most of the politicians is that they play politics just a short time before elections, while he plays politics 365 days in the year and nights besides. He said a few years ago he went to Ireland, and from there he sent 5000 post cards, one to each voter in Salem. He said he had those cards prepared before he reached the old country, and later employed a clerk to address them all. He performed the same feat on another occasion when he visited in Canada. The mayor also spoke on the moving pictures in which he figured, when the house in which he lives was set afire by moving picture men for the purpose of getting a great good reel of the fire department in action. He said on this occasion tar and some chemical composition was placed in the building, and a match was applied to the inflammable material.

It was he, Mayor Hurley, who rang in the alarm for the fire department, and he said the pictures proved to be the best ever. When the films were finished he invited the members of the board of trade and other organizations in Salem to act as censors, and the pictures were allowed.

Mayor Hurley, in closing his interview, paid a compliment to our Lowell senator, Senator Draper, for helping him on the Salem grade crossing matter.

In concluding Mayor Hurley said "My motto is 'Right on Deck,' and I believe there is not one man, woman or child in Salem who does not know who is 'Right on Deck.'"

Mayor Hurley is on deck in firemen's musters, and he said he has been a constant attendant at these musters for the past 25 years. Upon leaving city hall he and his two friends who accompanied him to this city, were taken to the North common by Supt. Nowell F. Putnam of the street department, and they remained on the common until the tournament was over.

The comfort and pleasure of having a clean, light, airy, sanitary office for your patron, as well as yourself, makes work easy in the new Sun building.

McGARY WAS FOUND NOT GUILTY

After Long Trial on Charges of Larceny—Two Milkmen Were Fined Today

The McGary case was the only one of interest heard in the local police court, and this kept Judge Enright on the bench until well past the noon hour. McGary was adjudged not guilty by the court on all three counts of the complaint made against him for larceny from his former employer, Harry Pitts.

Little or no new evidence was injected into the trial by this morning's rebuttal on both sides. The summing up, however, occupied over an hour, and the case was taken up at length by Attorney Regan for the prosecution, and Daniel J. Donahue, Esq. for the defense.

In the summary of the evidence introduced in the case Judge Enright found as follows: "On the first count, that of stealing the bag of money, no evidence has been produced to show that more than a suspicion rests upon the defendant and that others had an equal opportunity to take it. On the second count, that of stealing a sale of $2.25, I find the defendant not guilty, as the cash register slips which the prosecution offers do not form sufficient evidence. On the third count, wherein the defendant is accused of taking $2.75, his word is equal to that of the witness who testified he saw him take it, and I discharge the defendant on all three counts."

Two milk dealers were fined when they made their appearance in court this morning, charged with violation of the state law dealing with the milk standard. Nicolas Parachos was fined $55, and Frank L. Peabody was taxed $15 for not having their milk up to this standard.

Danilo Reardon was fined $15 for his third appearance for drunkenness within the current year. There were only two releases by the probation officer.

HOSPITAL ASSOCIATION NOTES FROM CITY HALL

Discusses Plans for Enlarging its Work Permit to Build a Bungalow

BOSTON, Aug. 28.—Plans for enlarging the work and influence of the American Hospital Association were discussed yesterday afternoon at the annual convention of that body in the Copley-Plaza hotel.

The subject was opened by E. P. Haworth, superintendent of the Willows Maternity Sanitarium, Kansas City, Mo. In an address showing what the Association could do for the hospitals of America, he claimed that its membership should consist of hospitals, not of persons, and that it should have permanent headquarters, a paid secretary and a journal of its own.

"The association," he said, "ought to devise a uniform system of cost accounting and work for the standardization of staple medical and surgical supplies used by hospitals. It should also formulate a code of ethics to be observed by hospitals in their relation to the physicians, the professional nurses, the public, and another. We also need some systematic course of education started to encourage young women to follow nursing as a profession."

After a brief general discussion of the recommendations, it was voted to refer them to a committee of which G. W. Olson, superintendent of the Swedish hospital in Minneapolis, will be chairman.

A paper favoring the employment of third-year pupils as special nurses was read by Miss Mary Alberta Baker, superintendent of St. Luke's hospital, Jacksonville, Fla., and discussed by Miss Nora D. Abbe of the Samaritan hospital, Ashland, O.

At the morning session, held in the out-patient department of the Massachusetts General hospital, Dr. John Allan Hornsby of Chicago urged the inspection and standardization of hospitals, the subject being also discussed by Dr. Ernest A. Codman.

The report on hospital construction was presented by Dr. John M. Peiers, superintendent of the Rhode Island hospital at Providence. An account of record keeping at the Massachusetts General hospital was given by Dr. Bryan Hollings.

The small hospitals section, which also met in the morning, discussed means for making small hospitals self-sufficient, with G. W. Olson as the chief speaker, and "Ambulance Service for Small Hospitals," as outlined by Miss Margaret M. Moore, superintendent of Jackson City hospital at Jackson, Mich.

The evening session was given to a "round table" on miscellaneous hospital topics. In the discussion on the employment of nurses as anesthetists opposing views were expressed, some of the speakers maintaining that anesthetics should be given by a physician, others asserting that the trained nurse was qualified to administer them. On a show of hands in an audience of about 100 it appeared that in 29 of the hospitals represented either is given by the nurses. It was also brought out that 23 of the hospitals have training instructors and that in 30 the anti-typhoid vaccine is given to the nurses.

DEAD AS A RESULT OF DRINKING WOOD ALCOHOL

TUNKHANNOCK, Pa., Aug. 28.—Three men are dead and one is dying here as the result, it is believed, of drinking wood alcohol in mistake for grain alcohol and whiskey. The four men were found mortally ill in widely separated places of the countryside last night and three died within a short time. The dead are Harry Feldman, aged 21; Jeffrey Ross, 45; George Weiss, 50; Percy Newall, 35 years old; the fourth member of the party is not expected to live.

MANUFACTURING SENTIMENT

In "The World's Work" for September is a very interesting and illuminating article by Senator Charles S. Thomas of Colorado entitled "My Adventures with the Sugar Lobby," and with the still more timely subtitle: "How the Sugar People Manufactured Public Opinion." Though but a member of the United States senate for a few months, he says that the greater part of his time in that brief period has been spent in guarding against the approaches and the attacks of those "public spirited citizens" who have been attempting to influence his acts as senator by "the ostentatious parade of a manufactured public sentiment."

The senator knows whereof he speaks, for, as he says, it was during his term as governor of Colorado that the sugar industry began in the same capacity he made the first contract for the sale of lands to the sugar growers. He has studied the question at first hand and this is his verdict:

"These several sugar industries—the beet growers, the cane growers of Louisiana and Hawaii—have for years maintained regular and expensive headquarters in Washington. These offices have served chiefly for the dissemination of information on the sugar question. Their purpose has been to cultivate or accelerate public sentiment favorable to maintaining a high protective duty on sugar."

For many years the head of the American Sugar Beet association personally conducted the publicity campaign, but two years ago it was handed over to the experienced hands of men trained for such work, the most important of whom is Mr. Truman Palmer. Of the work of the latter, Senator Thomas says:

"Mr. Palmer's chief activities have apparently been in securing wide circulation for his sugar ideas at public expense. Three years ago he wrote an elaborately illustrated pamphlet on 'Sugar at a Glance'—a complete treatment of the subject from the beet sugar side. Mr. Palmer succeeded in having this printed as a senate document; he even made numerous alterations in the copy as it was passing through the press. He sent 200,000 copies through the mails at government expense, thereby saving $3,200 in postage."

One of Mr. Palmer's associates, a certain Mr. Hamlin, has manufactured public opinion in other and not less successful ways. Not the least of these was the preparation of the sugar paragraphs in the republican campaign text book of 1912. "The sugar question will be handled subject to our approval," he wrote, "in fact the matter will be furnished by us."

A very interesting part of Mr. Thomas' article is that which deals with the influences brought to bear on him by the sugar industry previous to his election, and the animosity that broke out against him in certain sections as soon as he declared that those who wished to get his opinion on sugar would find it in the democratic platform. "I am convinced," he says, "that the sugar lobby led by Mr. Charles Boettcher, of the great western company, was back of this campaign."

He humorously shows up many weaknesses in the system of manufacturing public sentiment as resorted to by the sugar industry. He has received several thousands of letters from the employees of the sugar factories protesting against the cut in tariff. If these letters, he says, "between the lines of this correspondence I think I can detect the influence of the traveling publicity expert." There is a uniformity about the style and a systematic emanation from various points at different times that removes from the protests all the features of spontaneity and sincerity. Furthermore a dozen telegrams received on May 12th were identical in phraseology and were addressed to Charles S. Thomas—whereas his middle initial is "S." Of this Senator Thomas writes: "Either one man wrote all twelve messages or we have here a sensational instance of mental telepathy."

ANOTHER VIEW OF THAW CASE

Editor Sun:—I do not approve of your stand on the Thaw case and when I refer to your paper, I may say that most of the papers of the country take the same stand. Thaw is not insane and he would be a free man today if he were not rich. Standford White deserved to be shot and the worst punishment that the courts would have meted out to Thaw had not the insanity plea been resorted to. He would have been hanged or five years imprisonment for manslaughter. After serving a few years he would probably have been pardoned out. That is why I say he has suffered enough for his crime and that he should be set at liberty.

Truly yours,

Justice.

We admit that the contention of our correspondent expresses the view of a great many people. Thaw's lawyers made a great mistake in trying to prove him insane because under the provocation and the circumstances of the crime it could not have been made out more serious than manslaughter. He fired at White in a fit of rage and for a cause that would excite the rage of any sensible man. In view of the fact that in many states the man who would shoot White under such circumstances would go scot free, we do not believe his sentence, had he been convicted, would have been a heavy one. Then after remaining a couple of years in prison, his case would appeal to public sympathy and he would have been set free. But his lawyers chose to prove him insane, although Thaw himself said he was not insane; and under similar tests and with the same array of experts, almost any man of nervous temperament might be proved insane.

It is true that Thaw had been convicted, he might today be a free man. That being a fact, he has undoubtedly suffered enough or too much for his crime. Had a common laborer shot White under precisely similar circumstances, he would have got a moderate sentence and with sympathy on his side, he might have been pardoned after a few years. But the prominence of Thaw, the fact that he was rich and the attention given his case by certain lawyers and sensational newspapers, all operated against him and much to the prejudice of his case. In this light the fact that he was wealthy did injure rather than help him.

He has now escaped from the horrors of an insane asylum and if he is not insane, it would be more in accordance with justice to set him free, than again to consign him to what must be to him a living hell. Many a man has suffered less for premeditated murder than Thaw for his rash act of vengeance which in some states would be set down as justifiable homicide.

THE VACCINATION RULE

The rule that in future all pupils of public and private schools will have to show positive evidence of having been vaccinated or else a doctor's certificate stating that vaccination would be injurious to the individual pupil, is wise and timely. The recent smallpox scare revealed weaknesses in the working out of the regulations concerning vaccination which should never have been permitted. There are at present many who doubt the efficacy of vaccination as a preventive of the dread smallpox disease, but the weight of evidence of the medical profession and knowledge based on experience seems to favor it. Any rule which is not enforced is liable to do more harm than good, and this is especially true of such an important regulation as that which requires all school children to be vaccinated or show good reason why they are exempt from the rule.

DESERVED CASTIGATION

Rev. Fr. Donaldson, a New York pastor, like most pastors, has in his parish families in which the wife and mother or the minor children are obliged to work while the husband and father is a lazy loafer. But unlike most pastors he has got after these worthless men until he has made them ashamed of themselves. He says that they would not work if they got the chance, although they always excuse themselves by saying they cannot find work. He says they should be tied to a whipping post and dogged until they come to a realizing sense of their meanness and the enormity of their cruelty in living upon the lifeblood of poor women and children. Fr. Donaldson has set an example which some other pastors might well follow.

FIREMEN'S MUSTER

Today the city of Lowell extends a cordial welcome to the Veteran Firemen of New England and hopes they will all enjoy their visit. In 1905 they had a great gala day here and on this occasion, it is hoped, their stay will be equally enjoyable. We would call their attention to the fine fire department of Lowell and to the Sun building as the only real fire-proof structure in Lowell. Our long line of textile factories will doubtless engage their attention as will the elegance of our principal streets. It is hoped they will carry away the most favorable impression of Lowell as a thriving and prosperous city.

Jack Johnson is not wanted in London. A fugitive from justice and the abuser of women, no decent theatre should engage him as an attraction and if so engaged no decent man or woman should go to see him, even through curiosity.

Seen and Heard

Bishop Candler of Atlanta, apostrophe of worldly persons, said the other day: "There was a worldly person of this type in Philadelphia—a great fox hunter—whom a Spruce street Quaker took in hand."

"Friend," said the Quaker, "I understand thee's clever at fox catching."

"I have few equals and no superiors at that sport," the parson complacently replied.

"Nevertheless, friend," said the Quaker, "if I were a fox I would hide where thee would never find me."

"Where would you hide?" asked the parson with a frown.

"Friend," said the Quaker, "I would hide in thy study."

A well known insurance official said the other day in Chicago: "In the beginning of my career, when I was only a humble insurance agent, I gained access one morning to the august and formidable presence of J. Pierpont Morgan."

"No," the official insisted; "yes, it's a fact. Don't ask me how I did it, though, for that's a secret. But at about 10 o'clock one morning, behold me, a young insurance agent, standing before the desk of the great J. Pierpont, with my big envelope of life-and-death statistics, twenty-year endowments and so forth in my hand. I was, I have since learned, the first and only insurance agent who ever managed to meet Mr. Morgan face to face."

"Well, what happened?"

"Mr. Morgan," I began, hurriedly, "you ought to carry more life insurance. You are, sir."

"And lucidly and cogently I laid my insurance proposition before the great man."

"He listened in silence. Those fierce blue eyes of his bored me through like javelins. When I stopped at last, all he said was:

"How did you get in here?"

"I walked in," I answered.

"Well," said he, "walk out."

William J. Burns, the detective, proposes to train up a number of young college graduates in the detecting trade.

Talking about crime to a group of college graduate applicants for posts on his staff, Mr. Burns said: "It doesn't take me long to decide on a lad's suitability for this career. Only the other day, for example, I discharged a Yale first honor man after twenty-four hours' trial. His first case proved him valueless."

"What was his first case," asked a Harvard classmate.

"Theft of a box of soap," said Mr. Burns. "Theft of a box of soap from a freight car, and the lad arrested a tramp!"

TRANSFORMATION

Where is my wife of yesterday?

She's here, every day.

With double chin and baggy throat, And silver in her hair.

I loved her for her solid walk, I loved her for her size.

I loved her for the wrinkles, That had grown about her eyes.

I loved her for the wrinkles coming, And I miss those wrinkles now.

For they came from mutual trouble, And I watched them on my brow.

But the Beauty Doctor got her, And he fixed her chin, And he paraded her shoulders, And he pulled her waistline in.

And her figure of a matron, Which I'd grown to know as well, Is as slender as a willow, And as swift as a gazelle.

Do I hunt that Beauty Doctor, With a summons in my hand? Do I swear eternal vengeance, For the age-marks that I've missed? Do I rage for charms lymphatic? No! I sound a minor note.

For she's got herself up shipshape, To be ready for the vote.

Town Hall Destroyed by Lightning Five Minutes After Selectmen Adjourn Meeting

NEW GLOUCESTER, Me., Aug. 28.—Five minutes after the selectmen had adjourned a meeting they had been holding yesterday afternoon, lightning struck the town building and literally tore it to pieces. Windows were ripped from the casements, doors unhinged and clapboards torn off and blown hundreds of feet. A chair in which one of the members had been sitting was split in two. Several fires were started but extinguished before much damage had been done. Every telephone line in town was put out of commission and communication out of town was not obtained until late last evening.

BOSTON, Aug. 28.—Arrangements were completed yesterday by the officers of the Cosmopolitan Equal Rights Association of Greater Boston for a public mass meeting that will be held next Thursday night in the First African Methodist Episcopal church, West End, to protest against discrimination, and to fight for equal recognition to all races.

The Cosmopolitan Equal Rights Association of Greater Boston was formed a short time ago to oppose discriminations, political and otherwise, among the various nationalities. The first gun for the coming campaign will be fired at the meeting.

Delegates from the various nationalities who claim that they are ignored politically and socially in Boston and Massachusetts have been invited to attend.

SEVERAL CANDIDATES ON DEMOCRATIC SIDE

William J. Corcoran of Cambridge Has Filed Papers as a Candidate—Irwin Endorsed in Everett

It looks as though District Attorney John J. Higgins will have no opposition in his own party at the primaries this fall. The decision of Representative Nathan A. Tufts of Waltham to seek another term on Beacon Hill leaves Higgins alone in the field for the republican nomination. Second Assistant District Attorney Nelson B. Brown of Everett was urged to run but has declined to enter the contest.

On the democratic side of the fence Attorney William R. Scharton, who represented "Jahon Dan" in the famous Russell will case, has not yet entered the race, although at the close of the celebrated will case he stated that he was going to run.

Attorney James J. Irwin of Everett, who ran against Higgins three years ago, has been endorsed by Everett democrats.

A committee of prominent county democrats interviewed the democratic state chairman "Tom" Riley of Malden, and "Tom" is after bigger game, and refused to bite. The same committee also called on ex-mayor John J. Shaughnessy of Marlboro, but he declined the honor owing to business reasons. Attorney Joseph W. Bartlett of Newton was called on by the committee, Mr. Bartlett is a thoroughly good man, and is associated with his father, Gen. Charles A. Bartlett of Boston.

The progressives have Attorney Philip M. Clark of Cambridge as their candidate.

With three aspirants for the office, the political pot in Middlesex county will soon start to boil with a vengeance.

AUGUST 12 WAS RED LETTER DAY

In Baseball History—Day Marked
by Sequence of Unusual Events
and Performances

NEW YORK, Aug. 28.—A sequence of unusual events and performances marked Tuesday, Aug. 12, as a red letter day in baseball history. William Whitaker of the Keokuk Central association team pitched 21 consecutive scoreless innings in a double-header between Waterloo and Keokuk teams. But five hits were made off Whitaker and his team won both games by a 1 to 0 score. The first game went nine innings and the second 12. In major league baseball, Reubach of the Chicago Cubs, on Sept. 26, 1903, pitched a double-header consisting of two nine-inning games against Brooklyn, winning both without giving the Superbas a run. During the same year Walter Johnson of the Washington club shut out the New York Americans on Sept. 4, 5 and 7, pitched 27 consecutive innings without allowing a run.

WHITAKER POWERS SOME PITCHER

While Whitaker was performing at Keokuk, William Powers of the New London club of the Eastern association was pitching a double-header of 18 innings in which he shut out the New Haven team without a run and allowed but eight hits. At the same hour the Toronto and Jersey City clubs of the International league were playing a 20-inning scoreless tie game in which Pitcher Hearne of the Toronto club twirled the full distance, allowing but six hits.

Minor league history shows that this 20-inning scoreless game was duplicated by the Cleburne and Fort Worth clubs of the Texas league on July 17, 1906, when, as in the case of Jersey City and Toronto, the game was called on account of darkness after the 20th inning.

The chronicles of the day's unusual baseball features do not end with these feats. Aug. 12 marked the 17th anniversary of Napoleon Lajoie's entry into big league baseball. It was also Christy Mathewson's 33d birthday and he celebrated by being a material factor in the Giants' victory over the Brooklyn club in an 11-inning game. The National baseball commission took advantage of the occasion to get into the limelight with a ruling to the effect that a baseball player who owed another money in the form of a personal debt could be suspended from organizing baseball until such time as he paid the debt.

Although a day late, Pitcher Hedgepath of the Richmond club of the Virginia league performed a spectacular twirling feat on Aug. 13, when he defeated in both games of a double-header against Petersburg, allowing one hit, three bases on balls and no runs. Hedgepath, who is slated for the Washington Americans, was opposed in the first game by Pitcher Ayres, who until defeated by Hedgepath, had a record of 13 straight victories. Ayres will also join the Washington club this fall.

WITH ENGLISH GOLFERS

With English golfers in all three national championship tournaments this autumn the play for amateur, open and women's titles taken an added interest. According to the latest reports the Mitchell will compete in both the amateur and open; Miss Muriel Dodd, present woman champion of Great Britain, and Miss Ravenscroft, 1912 champion, in the women's title tournament; Harry Vardon, Wilfrid Reid and Edward Ray in the open. There is early evidence that these title-seeking golfers, aided by the French trio, will attract unusual attention to the competitions at Garden City, Brookline and Wilmington.

Large entry lists are predicted for both the amateur and open. The entire week, September 1-6, will be devoted to amateur tournament. A record entry is also expected for the open competition and the play will in all probability require four instead of two days as originally planned. It is believed that many of the United States professionals will avail themselves of the opportunity to enter with the idea of watching the famous foreign players in action, rather than the hope of securing a place in the final rounds.

Planning for Another Year

With the finish of the 1913 pennant races in sight the magnates of the big league clubs are already planning for another year's campaign. The efforts to strengthen various teams in both the National and American leagues goes on apace accompanied by the usual reports of trades, shake-ups and managerial changes. Danno Hummer can always find ready listeners in the baseball world and almost every club except the flag winning combinations come in for a share of her attention. Among those managers who are reported to find the balancing of the field director's crown a nerve-racking feat are Evers of the Chicago Nationals; Challenor of the Chicago White Sox; Carrigan of the Boston Red Sox; Dahlgren of the Brooklyn Nationals; Stallan of the St. Louis Browns; and Tinker of the Cincinnati club.

In several cases successors for the present managers have been tentatively named by underground gossip. Brennan is said to be in line for Evers' position; Stahl named for Challenor's place and George McBride slated to fill Carrigan's shoes. Lord and Chase are also said to be willing to help Conterker in the task of uplifting the White Sox. Apparently John McGraw, Connie Mack are the only managers who appear to be sure of their positions at this time, if rumors are to be believed.

Cricket Club of London

An interesting addition to the international contests of the year should develop in the coming American tour of the famous Inceoght Cricket Club of London. This organization of amateur cricketers holds a unique position in the cricket circles of England. Composed exclusively of gentlemen players, the club was formed in 1861 with a membership originally fixed at 100, limited to 150 in 1869, increased to 175 in 1871, and now limited to 300 members. There is a large waiting list of applicants for membership, for the Inceoght is a social as well as a cricket club. The members do not play for gain, money, and are paying their own expenses during the tour of the United States and Canada.

The 13 players who compose the team are all cricketers of approved ability, being members of either the leading school, university or Oxford club eleven. Cambridge and Oxford universities are both well represented as are Eton, Harrow and Rugby schools. Among those who will stand before the wickets are: Col. C. E. Greenway, B. P. Dobson, E. J. Metcalfe, Capt. W. G. M. Sarel, C. L. Tudor, G. V. Nibbald, Michael Falson, B. G. Von E. Velle, G. R. E. Coleman, D. M. P. Whitcombe, Philip Collins.

The schedule as arranged at present calls for five matches, four to be played in the east and one in Canada. JOE JACKSON HEADS BOTH BIG LEAGUES

WITH THE BEST BATTING AVERAGE

JOE JACKSON
PHOTOS BY AMERICAN PRESS ASSOCIATION

CLEVELAND, Aug. 28.—Joe Jackson, leader in batting average of both big leagues, is a tower of strength for the Cleveland Naps. His brawny bat has done much to put the team second in the American league race. At the publication of the last standing of the players Jackson headed his league with an average of .355, eight points ahead of the great Ty Cobb and twenty-eight points ahead of the third man, Tris Speaker of the world's champions. Jackson up to that time had played in 113 games and made 157 hits. Yinging of Brooklyn is high man in the National league with a percentage of .375 for thirty-eight games. Daubert of Brooklyn is the real leader with .355 for 106 games.

PALACE OF PEACE DEDICATED

Gay Decorations in Honor of the
Ceremonies—Many Diplomats
Present

THE HAGUE, Aug. 28.—The capital is gaily decorated today in honor of the ceremonies incident to the dedication of the Palace of Peace. Andrew Carnegie's magnificent gift as a home for the permanent court of arbitration. Many notable men, principally diplomats, have arrived from other countries to attend the ceremonies. The American minister to the Netherlands, Lloyd Bryce, Mr. and Mrs. Carnegie, and other notables are among the distinguished notables here.

Brazil has sent the warship Benjamin Constant to Amsterdam, and her officers are in attendance on the ceremonies of dedication.

At a garden party and reception tomorrow the British minister will unveil the statue of Edward VII. and Mr. Carnegie will unveil the statue of Sir Randall Cremer, the great peace advocate.

The Palace of Peace, which was dedicated with impressive ceremonies today, is the gift of Andrew Carnegie, who, in 1902, placed at the disposal of the Dutch government the sum of $1,000,000 for the purpose, as expressed in his offer, "of erecting and maintaining at The Hague a court house and library for the permanent court of arbitration established by the treaty of the 24th of July, 1899."

eninger, and the corner stone was laid July 26, 1907.

A world-wide competition for plans and designs for the Peace Palace was established, and the first prize was awarded to M. Cordouliere, a Brussels architect. The building as completed, however, does not represent the original plans. The Dutch committee, having reserved the right to modify all designs. With Mr. Cordouliere's plans for a foundation, Mr. van der Stuur was appointed to carry out the modified design and remained in direct control of the work until the completion of the building.

The Palace of Peace as completed does not represent any precise style of architecture, but it is regarded by architects as one of the most impressive buildings to be seen in Europe. Rectangular in shape, it forms roughly a square of 55 yards by 65 yards, and encloses a beautiful formal garden. On three sides the building constitutes the court house, and on the fourth or west side are the quarters of the library. The facade of the second floor is adorned with statues, the figures representing science, agriculture, art, navigation, commerce, industry, concord, eloquence, will force, study, authority, humanity, constancy and wisdom.

To provide a site for this, the first structure ever erected for such a purpose, the Dutch government appropriated $25,000. The site selected is in a section of wooded and hilly park stretching from The Hague to Schev-hundreds this summer, will be continued tonight, when dozens of pretty craft will encircle the lake, trimmed with lighted lanterns and with bunting. All who have witnessed this unique sight will want to see the show tonight, which will, in some respects be one of the best of the year. The open air performance will be given the same time as usual. Martin and Ganett, two western strong men, have their comedy acrobatic stunt, which winds up with a trick automobile piece of work. The pair are generally popular. There ought to be a big advance sale for the lectures to be delivered in the theatre by Dr. John C. Bowler, the noted platform speaker who, beginning Sept. 5, will speak twice daily. In the afternoon he will speak on Mexico, while at night the Passion play at Oberammergau, Bavaria, will be delineated. He has many hundred striking stereopticon views to illustrate his lectures. The charge will be 15 and 25 cents.

B. F. Keith Theatre
The snappy opening bill of the season at the B. F. Keith theatre is doing an excellent business, as it well deserves. It is a colorful show, and one which has all of the elements that go to make a playhouse a success. The top-line act is "From Coney Island to the North Pole," played by Arthur Lavine and a company of eight, including a heavy of girls. Other good things are Jennings and Wilson, blackface comedians; the Versatile Trio, male singers; Flo and Arlie Walters, singers and dancers; the Dramatics, instrumentalists; Rio and Norman, athletes; "The Toll Bridge," a rural comedy, and the "Pathé weekly," a collection of motion pictures taken from all over the world.

Opera House
The Opera house, which has been thoroughly renovated, will reopen its doors next Monday (Labor Day), with the latest and best in motion pictures as the opening attraction. All the necessary equipment for this most popular form of amusement has been installed, the management going to the great expense of placing a "Riot-timer," a machine used by all the leading theatres of this country where perfect pictures are shown. The policy of the house will be to play all feature pictures during the coming season, giving way to the high-class road attractions only. The prices have been carefully considered so as to be within the reach of all, namely, 5c for children and 10c for adults. Matinee will be given every afternoon from 2 to 5, and two complete evening performances at 7 and 9:45. No efforts will be spared to make this entertainment most pleasing to the patrons of this most popular playhouse.

Athletes and Athletics

Ladies' day will be held at the ball park Friday. Manager Gray has made up every rainy Wednesday to the members of the fair sex who support the team.

Tomorrow a delegation of a hundred youngsters from the playgrounds will be entertained by the baseball management. The last time that the club entertained a crowd of juveniles was when the winner of the New England league flag and will doubtless get it if Lowell lands the flag.

Hartford will probably win the pennant in the Eastern association race. The fans in the Connecticut city are shouting for a post season series with the winner of the New England league flag and will doubtless get it if Lowell lands the flag.

Porky Flynn got his clean breaks, but he would have been fully as well off without them. It was one of Langford's little jokes to hang out for hitting in the clinches. Although Sam was overweighed and fat, boxing critics consider that the "Boston Tar Baby" can whip any man in the world.

Dartmouth will get two wonderful colored track men this fall in Howard Drew and Irving Howe. Drew is considered one of the greatest if not the fastest century man who ever pulled on a spiked shoe while Howe is also a flier of marked ability. Howe is also a good football man and will add strength to the pigskin squad of the New Hampshire college.

With the boxing season drawing near plans for the first indoor meeting of the Triangle A. A. are already under way. The matchmaker has not as yet decided upon a card but the opening show will be a hummer.

At last articles have been signed by Willie Ritchie and Freddie Welch of England for their long talked of twenty round bout. The fight will take place in Vancouver on September 20th. Welch has been chasing the champion ever since he pulled the title away from Ad Wolgast and has many backers throughout the country.

Patsy Flaherty lined out a home run in yesterday's game between Fall River er and Lynn that could have counted for two. The ball was not returned to the diamond until the Lynn manager was comfortably seated on the home team's bench.

Mordecai Brown, the three fingered twirler who is now working for Cincinnati gave the Giants a bad nine innings yesterday. Neither New York pinch hitters nor McGraw's strategy could stave off a 5 to 1 defeat for the leaders of the National league race.

Worcester crept up a notch in the race by their win over New Bedford but are still a game behind. Burkett is doing his best to bolster up his club for the coming two weeks' struggle. Mayo, an ex-Red Sox, twirled yesterday's game.

"Vic" Sailer's home town, Lansing, Michigan, will be given a chance to see their hero perform on September 3d when the Cubs play there. Sailer is one of the most promising youngsters in the big show and is playing a wonderful game for the Chicago club. Yesterday he climbed over the first base bleacher rail and grabbed a foul fly.

Third baseman Herzog, one of the scrappiest players the game has ever produced, will probably be sent to the Cardinals in exchange for Pitcher Geyer. McGraw has had a lot of trouble with his third sacker, but the rumor to the effect that he would ship his Hebrew infield took the New York fans by surprise. Nothing definite has been announced as yet.

The Red Sox got but five hits off Johnson yesterday when they played the Syracuse club an exhibition game. The Boston team lost out by an 8 to 1 score and were lucky to score. This same pitcher defeated the Giants a few weeks ago. It is reported that McGraw already has him under contract.

Manager Stallings of the Braves has been called to the bedside of his wife at their home in Buffalo and will not return to his duties until she is out of danger. Captain Swann is now in command of the outfit. Stallings is now under suspension, but President Lynch has announced that the ban will be lifted this week.

MUDDLED CONDITION

New York's Political Situation Complicated

NEW YORK, Aug. 28.—A muddled political situation was further complicated yesterday with the authorized declaration from Mayor Gaynor that he would run for re-election on an independent ticket. New York thus finds itself with three Democrats as candidates for mayor. Tammany Hall last week designated Edward E. McCall, chairman of the public service commission, after refusing Mr. Gaynor a renomination, while the Fusionists selected John Purroy Mitchell, collector of the port.

Interest last night centered on the question of whom Mayor Gaynor's advisors will choose as his running mates. Should they, as many appear to expect, ask two of Mr. Mitchell's fusion colleagues—William A. Prendergast (progressive) for city controller, and George McAneny, for president of the board of aldermen—to allow their names to be placed on the Gaynor ticket, it is said to be certain that the fusion leaders will demand that the two decline to accept.

In possible anticipation of such a move by those in charge of Mayor Gaynor's campaign, Theodore Roosevelt today cabled to Mr. Prendergast in Germany urging him to assure the fusionists that he would not run "on any ticket on which Mitchell or the other fusion candidates for city offices are left off."

Mr. Roosevelt cited the example of Mr. Mitchell in refusing the proffered independence league designation on the ground that the league had not endorsed Mr. Prendergast and Mr. McAneny. The colonel said the fusion candidates should show that "this is a straight fight against Tammany" and for principle, and not a scramble for office.

FIRST ATTEMPT TO FLY AROUND ENGLAND AROUSSED THE AVIATION WORLD

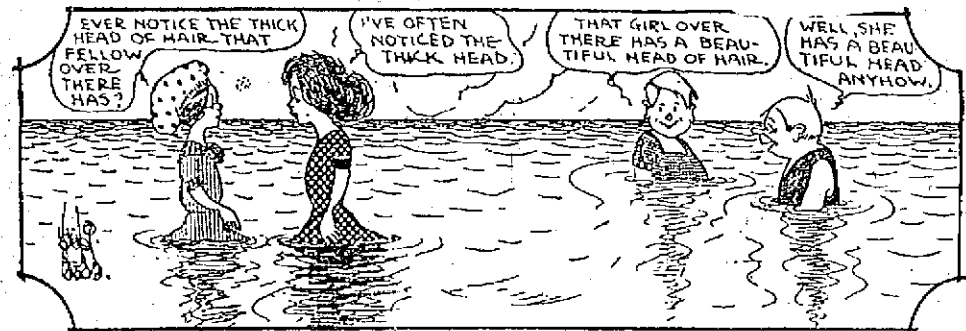

LONDON, Aug. 28.—Aviation enthusiasts watched with keen interest the steps in Harry G. Hawker's flight to capture the £25,000 prize for being the first air man to fly around England. The task was not an easy one—in fact, it was one of the most ambitious flights ever mapped out for an aviator. Hawker used a big hydroaeroplane, and when he left Southampton on Aug. 25 for the 1600 mile air journey around the island he felt that he would accomplish the feat in the allotted time of four days. He was the only one entered in the prize flight. On the first day he covered 495 miles and on the second day 341 miles, so that he was a little over halfway round England in two days. This led him to feel confident that he would reach Southampton on time.

THE MAJORITY LEADER

Will Prosecute Sulzer's
Close Friend

ALBANY, N. Y., Aug. 28.—Majority Leader Levy of the senate today announced his intention of prosecuting Linn J. Arnold, Governor Sulzer's close friend for charging that Levy accepted a $5000 bribe from former State Engineer Skene.

Mr. Levy said he also would sue the Knickerbocker Press, Arnold's paper, for a large amount.

Carrying out their announced intention, the assembly judiciary committee met this morning and had before it James C. Garrison charged with making public statements that money had been used to influence the votes of certain assemblers in favor of the impeachment.

Mr. Garrison declined to answer any questions unless permitted opportunity to consult counsel as to the jurisdiction of the committee. This opportunity was afforded him and the committee adjourned until two o'clock this afternoon, when Mr. Garrison was instructed to return with counsel.

A Minimum Loss

WASHINGTON, Aug. 28.—The forest service today declared that loss from flames among growing timber so far this year has been kept to a minimum. Only two states, Massachusetts and Maine, says the report, have thus far found it necessary because of extra serious fire hazard to call upon the emergency provisions of their agreement with the federal government.

One of the out-of-town veterans had dinner at one of the local restaurants and upon leaving was heard to remark that the dinner was the best he ever had for the price paid.

BIG GATHERING AT BIRTHPLACE OF WEBSTER

FRANKLIN, N. H., Aug. 28.—Commemorative exercises at the birthplace of Daniel Webster, together with the formal opening of the restored Webster farm, were begun today and will be concluded tomorrow. Several thousand people from neighboring cities and towns in central New Hampshire composed the main portion of the gathering while the formal exercises included addresses by a number of well known speakers.

TO SAVE $250,000 A YEAR

WASHINGTON, Aug. 28.—Postmaster General Burleson today signed an order which provides that precancelled postage stamps may be sold to the public and after September 16. Precancelled stamps have printed upon them the name of the postoffice before they are sold. Such stamps will be valid for postage on second, third and fourth-class mail—newspapers and magazines mailed by the public, books and other printed matter and merchandise or parcel post matter.

The stamps will be recognized only at the office named on them. By their use not only will the transportation and delivery of mail bearing them be expedited greatly, but it is estimated that the government will save an expense of labor in cancellation $250,000 a year.

Precancelled stamps, however, may not be used on letters of other sealed mail matter, which, under the law, must bear the date of mailing.

The Mexican Government Organ Publishes Documents Connected With Lind's Mission

MEXICO CITY, Aug. 28.—All documents connected with John Lind's mission in Mexico City are published today in the Diario Oficial, the Mexican government organ. In their proper chronological order. They consist of the original declarations of President Wilson which were quoted yesterday in the president's message and of the reply to John Lind made by Federico Gamboa, Mexican secretary of state for foreign affairs on Aug. 16 which was published in Washington contemporaneously with the president's message and of Mr. Lind's second note of Aug. 25.

TYPHOID FEVER

Traced to Swimming Pools—Majority of Patients Found to Have Frequent Baths

ST. LOUIS, Aug. 28.—Dr. C. M. Stark, of the city health department yesterday investigated 41 cases of typhoid fever in St. Louis and found that 13 per cent. of the patients had frequented public or private swimming pools. Forty-two per cent. of the patients had taken vacations in the country or small towns and while there drank well or spring water. Twenty-five per cent. had been on steamboat excursions.

The city bacteriologist said that bacteria found in water taken from city swimming pools were not typhoid bacteria but colon bacteria which cause a disease often mistaken for typhoid and equally dangerous.

The Hancock tub of Brockton which a picture appears in this issue holds the record for a throw of water. This tub has made 263 feet. Last year the Norantum of Newton, which took part in today's playout, won first place in the New England Veterans' muster with a throw of 61.7-1-2 in. The best throw ever by the Butler Vets of Lowell was 61.6-1-2 in. at Nashua, N. H. This record was made by the old City of all tub, which appeared in the playout, but was not drawn by the Butler Vets. The picture of this tub appears with this article.

TWO KILLED AND OTHERS INJURED

When Automobile Turned Turtle —Were on Their Way to Elk's Clambake at Springfield

BECKETT, Mass., Aug. 25.—Albert Williams and David Garvin, both of Pittsfield, were killed today when an automobile in which they and five others were on the way to an Elk's clambake at Springfield overturned while descending Jacob's ladder. The accident happened near Jacob's well. Garvin was killed instantly and Williams died about an hour after the accident. The accident was due to the collapse of one of the wheels of the machine, causing it to turn completely over. Williams and Garvin were in the front seat, the former driving and they were pinned beneath the car. In the tonneau were Thomas Carty of Lee, W. H. Murphy, Andrew Doyle, James Devanny, Daniel Cullen, all of Pittsfield. Carty had his hip broken and one of the others had several ribs fractured but none was fatally injured.

Lowell and Brockton met in a double header at Spaulding park this afternoon, and about 1500 fans were present. Maybohm started the twirling for the local boys and appeared to be in fine form. Daly was on the rear end of the battery. Swapp, who made such a poor showing against Lowell last Friday went into the box for the Shoemakers and was hit hard. The double umpire system was used. White and O'Brien being the decision makers. The lineup was as follows:

Clemens was thrown out on a nice play by Dowd. Miller fled out to Maseo and Thomas fanned.

Score: Lowell 9, Brockton 3.

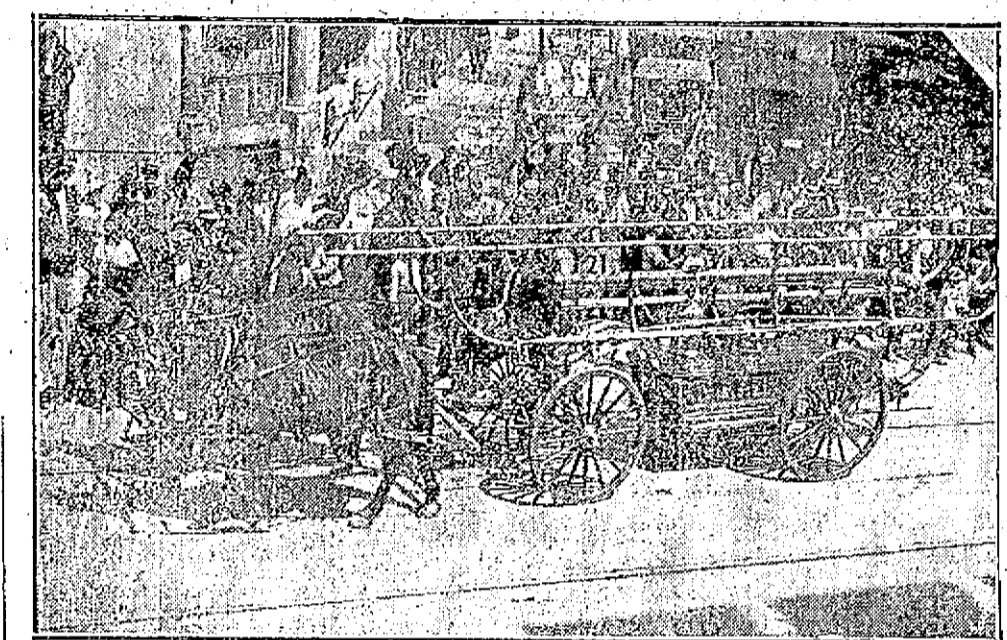

Brockton failed to score in the second. Aubrey threw out Kennedy. Doe performed a like operation of McGinn. Tesch fled out to Doe.

Maseo walked and took second when Halstein grounded out to Dowd. Swapp and Dowd both tried to get under DeGroot's infield fly, but failed and Maseo went to third. Aubrey scored Maseo with a beautiful sacrifice. Doe struck out.

BROCKTON TUB TAKES FIRST PRIZE IN FIREMEN'S MUSTER

HANCOCK NO. 1 OF BROCKTON, WINNER OF FIRST PRIZE—RECORD 231 FT. 1/2 IN.

While numerically, the firemen's muster this year was not to be compared with that of five years ago, the records made today eclipsed those established at that play-out which was one of the largest ever held in New England. Today the Hancock of Brockton won first prize with a stream of 231 feet 1/2 inch while five years ago this same tub captured the first prize in a field of 61 machines with a stream of but 226 feet 10 1/4 inches. For winning today's play-out the Hancock team took the $200 cash prize and a beautiful trophy valued at $50, the gift of the Butler Vets of this city.

The White Angel of Salem won second prize, $150. This was the last tub to squirt.

The Vixen, of Berwick, Maine, formerly a Lowell tub, was the winner of third prize. This machine threw a stream of 214 feet 3 1/2 inches. This company was awarded $100.

The Germania of Chelsea took fourth prize, $50, with a record of 204 feet 10 inches.

Protection, No. 2 of Amesbury, which finished fifth, with 204 feet and 4 1/2 inches, was in charge of Captain P. Manning and had about forty men at the pumps. This machine has a record of 215 feet, 3 inches, which was made at Nashua, N. H., in 1898. She has captured a great many prizes since entering the Veteran Firemen's association. The captain today stated that in all the company has won over $2500 in prizes. The tub was built in 1883. In the muster here in 1908 this tub finished eighth and won a $50 prize.

The Lowell Tubs

The City of Lowell, the old Butler Vet tub, which was in charge of Captain James Curry, with 60 men, came in sixth, just outside the money. This tub threw a stream of 201 feet 4 1/2 inches. This record was thirty feet better than the record made by the new Butler Vet machine, the Liberty.

Sketch of the Hancock No. 1

The Hancock, Brockton, Mass., winner of first prize, holds the record for throwing a stream, which is slightly over 230 feet. On August 20, 1908, in the big muster held here, this tub captured the first prize, which was $300. To this Humphrey O'Sullivan, who had charge of the muster, added $100. This year the company was in charge of Capt. S. E. Wilber and there were fifty men in the ranks. Upon the first attempt when the stream went over 230 feet, it was apparent that the members were out to repeat their performance of five years ago. When the final score was announced as 231 feet 1/2 inch, there was an outburst of applause. Later when all competitors had finished and the Hancock was declared the winner the members were showered with congratulations and their captain, taken on the shoulders of several of the enthusiasts and carried all over the common.

Scenes on Common

The crowd at the commencement of the squirts was of unusual proportions but as the afternoon advanced people came in hundreds. They lined the ropes a dozen thick and distributed themselves in groups all over the common. The scene looked like a miniature 4th of July celebration. All the features of the midway were in evidence. There were the toy balloons, the three shot a penny, the nigger that died dead from concussion of the brain, the fruit stands and tonic stands that offered such a strong temptation to the kiddies, the vendors of banners and souvenirs and all the other usual attractions of such observances. Added to that were the uniforms and trucks of the out-of-town companies and the bands which played spasmodically throughout the afternoon. As each company got through squirting, the crews of the tubs left the common and were to be seen in all sections of the city, many of them until a late hour.

Although a hospital tent was provided, there was only one case of prostration during the day. One of the Portland delegation was slightly overcome and taken by two companions to the tent where he rested during the afternoon.

The Protection crew of Amesbury threw a fine squirt, but directed it

SHERBROOKE, Que., Aug. 25.—Louis St. Laurent, the lawyer retained by the Thaw family to defend "Gentleman Rogers" Thompson, left Sherbrooke suddenly today for Quebec in an attempt to head off William Travers, Jerome and Deputy Attorney General Franklin Kennedy of New York, who went to Quebec yesterday in an endeavor to

While St. Laurent is not the most prominent of the Thaw defenders, his home is in Quebec and he is the only one of the Thaw legal contingent who is a liberal in politics. Sir Lomer Gouin is a liberal.

Story of the Parade

In all parts of the city there was a great air of expectation this morning previous to the parade of the annual muster of the Veteran Firemen's association, and the hopes that were aroused by memories of previous affairs in this city were not disappointed. The weather was glorious. There was a warmth in the air unusual at this time of year, but it was not of the oppressive variety that would impose hardship on the marching veterans or on the thousands that lined the streets.

Many of the tubs and their crews arrived last night and others came here at an early hour this morning. As the trains from all directions pulled into the depot the crowd in that vicinity became more and more animated. Groups of strangers accompanied the out-of-town delegations, and it is safe to say that besides the estimated 5000 veterans in parade, thousands of those who made a solid wall from the depot to the final destination at the North

Mr. Hanigan Visits Lowell and Commends Union Contract—Says it Prevents Strikes

Mr. John Hanigan, of Worcester, general organizer for the Carpenters' union of America, was in town yesterday and expressed himself as well pleased with the manner in which the organization is handled in this city.

"I am opposed to strikes and lock-outs," he said, "and approve most heartily of the three-year contract that is usually made between our men and the contractors."

If the other building trades would all adopt the same method of adjusting differences with their employees there would be very few tie-ups in the building business. It would be better for the contractors as well as the men for no contractor can figure ahead if he is confronted with uncertainty among the building crafts. Our unions always hold to the letter of these contracts and are compelled to do so by the national officers of our unions.

"At the present time," said Mr. Hanigan, "our unions have a membership of 265,000 in this country and the national organization pays on an average $34,000 a month in sick and death benefits."

Mr. Hanigan was pleased to learn that over 80 per cent. of the carpenters of Lowell belong to one or other of the three unions, which have a total membership of 700 members.

He paid a high compliment to Mr. Michael A. Lee for the manner in which he has conducted the business of the unions in Lowell.

five of his men. When they got the monster to the surface they gaffed him while he was trying to overturn their boat.

As he turned over on his back dead it was decided that he was too big to get into the boat to take ashore, so it was decided to cut him open and take ashore a full length section to prove his size.

Fishermen always cut open sharks to see what they have inside of them. The shark's belly was awash with the boat's gunwale when the knife was applied, and Capt. Combes and his five men were horrified to see the foot of a woman fall out of the stomach into the boat. They released the shark's carcass and took the foot ashore.

Mr. Ohmer was fishing near by in a pleasure boat and he said Tuesday that he not only had seen the foot, but the shark from which it was cut. He said the foot had been bitten off of a woman's leg between the knee and the ankle, and that all of the stocking had come away with it.

"From the condition of the foot and the shoe it could not have been in the shark's stomach long; perhaps he swallowed it on Sunday," said Mr. Ohmer. "If the woman was dead when he swallowed her foot she could not have been dead long."

No reports were found of any woman who had lost a foot through an encounter with a shark. One of the puzzling things was that the foot was said to have a shoe on it, proving the woman was not a bather. She might have fallen overboard and then been attacked by the shark.

He recalled that he had predicted some "vacant seats" six or seven years ago and the prediction had been fulfilled.

"It is true that some senators have disappeared from this side," retorted Senator Gallinger, "and it is equally true that the republican party has been put out of power by some men who sympathize with the senator from Wisconsin in his extreme views."

"The republican party has been put out of power by the people of this country who sympathize with the views which I am now expressing," cried Senator La Follette, shaking his hand.

"And they will put more men out of the senate of the type of the senator from New Hampshire before we get through with the disposition of these issues."

The defeat of the Bristow amendment by a vote of 46 to 16 came at the end of a short debate during which many republicans had urged a heavier tax on the larger incomes of the country. The democratic voted solidly against the change, as they had done in the case of the Bristow amendment yesterday, but were joined by the following republicans:

Senators Bradley, Brandegee, Catron, Colt, Gallinger, Lodge, McLean, Oliver, Penrose, Root, Smoot, Townsend and Weeks.

Senator La Follette proposed another amendment as soon as this was defeated, changing the basis of tax. It proposed an increase of one-half of one per cent. on each $10,000 up to $50,000; an increase of one per cent. on each $50,000 from $50,000 to $100,000; and a jump from seven per cent. to 10 per cent. for all incomes above $100,000.

Children Stunned

EVERETT, Aug. 18.—Eight children under 13 years of age who sought shelter in the new municipal bath house during a severe electrical storm yesterday were stunned when lightning struck the building. Three of them were seriously burned.

Anthony Russo, aged 7, was taken to the Whidden Memorial hospital last night. His left side is paralyzed and his body burned from the foot to the neck. Peter Russo, aged 8, is severely burned, and Alfreda Montrosson, aged 11, suffered burns to her right foot.

After Vacation Peel Your Discolored Skin

(From Broadway Weekly)

Women returning from the seaside with browned, reddened or freckled complexions will be wise in immediately taking up the mercolized wax treatment. Weatherbeaten skin had best come off, for no amount of "beautifying" will ever make such skin pretty to look at. The surest, safest, easiest way to shed the despoiled article is with the treatment suggested.

Put the wax on before retiring, as you would cold cream, and rinse it off next morning with warm water. Minute particles of scurf skin will peel off day by day, gradually showing the healthy, youthful skin beneath. One ounce of mercolized wax, obtainable at any drug store, is enough to make any discolored or spotted complexion clear, white and satiny soft. Its action is so gentle no injury is caused and the face shows no trace of its use.

Burning heat, irritating winds and direct sunbathing wrinkle-makers that the daily use of the following astonishingly gentle lotion at this season is highly advisable: Powdered roseholi, 1 oz., dissolved in witch hazel, 2 pt.

A face bath with this is a splendid wrinkle remover and preventive.

HELL'S CARNIVAL

Over 300 Skirts—London Pastor Says Devil Would Enjoy a Walk on Broadway

NEW YORK, Aug. 28.—"I am sure the devil is having a carnival in hell with the styles worn by the women in the streets of New York city today," declared the Rev. Dr. Len G. Broughton, pastor of Christ church, Westminster, London, in his sermon at the Tent Evangel, One Hundred and Twenty-fourth street, near Amsterdam avenue.

"Certainly, if I were the devil, I would not enter anything so much as a walk up Broadway or Fifth avenue looking at the slit skirts and other new styles of women's dress."

The way Dr. Broughton came to mention slit skirts and speak about the very light and quite transparent gowns now worn by many women was that the text for his sermon was: "Shall We Know Our Loved Ones in Heaven?"

His surmise was that those who wear the slit skirts will not be recognized in heaven because they won't get there.

"Until very recently I never knew a woman who was not interested in jewelry and clothes," he continued. "But now they have lost their interest in clothing and are going around the streets without any on. I don't know if it was committing upon the devil, but I would not enter anything so much as a walk up Broadway or Fifth avenue looking at the slit skirts and other new styles of women's dress."

The exchange says that the legislature provided that such plans should first be produced.

Perjury Charged

BOSTON, Aug. 28.—Walving examination, Thomas H. Smith was held yesterday in $1000 for the September term of the federal grand jury on the charge of perjury by United States Commissioner Hayes. Smith was furnished by the prisoner's mother.

Smith is charged with making alleged false statements as a bondsman for Nellie Guertin, who was arrested as a fugitive from New York. It is alleged that he claimed to be the owner of property in East Bridgewater assessed at $11,200, whereas he was not of such value.

Miss Guertin was the plaintiff in a case brought against the Mason-Tamm Transportation company of New York to recover $73,000 damages for alleged injuries received by her in a collision between two automobiles in New York, and she and three others were indicted in New York for perjury.

THE SOCIALIST PARTY

An Ohio Judge Says it Causes Crime

CINCINNATI, Aug. 28.—Common Pleas Judge Wade Cushing, who has been presiding in the criminal court during the summer vacation season, said in discussing his action in suspending the sentence of two foreigners on condition that they be deported to Germany, whence they came:

"I doubt if the public realizes the alarming increase in the number of criminals the courts are called on to deal with, and in particular, the criminals who come to Cincinnati from other cities and other countries. To get them out of the country is the best thing possible."

"The great increase in the number of criminals coming to Cincinnati is due to the spread of socialism. The teaching of this is such as appeal to the criminal classes. The fact that socialists are being made more welcome than heretofore in Cincinnati has attracted them from other cities and other countries."

Judge Cushing declares his belief that the socialists are back of the woman's suffrage movement in this country.

"The socialists see that it is a means of increasing their own strength," the judge said. "By adding the woman vote to the present male vote the strength of the socialists will be more than proportionately strengthened. The women members of that organization are just as radical as the men."

GIRL DONS TROUSERS

Couldn't Work for $6.00 and Walk Straight Path

NEW YORK, Aug. 28.—"I admit I'm a girl," said a young person who stood before the bar in the Adams street police court in tight blue serge trousers, a coat of the same material, a man's silk shirt and wing collar, and tan shoes and silk socks. "I've been masquerading as a man so that I might make more money and live better than I could as a woman."

Magistrate Voorhees looked curiously at the prisoner—"Catherine Clark" she said she was, then admitted this was a fictitious name—and seemed not to know exactly what to do about it. But he held her in $500 bail for a later examination, on the chance that her story wasn't altogether inaccurate.

The young woman was arrested in a saloon in Flushing avenue. For several days the police had been getting reports that a girl masquerading as a man had been frequenting cafes near the navy yard, and at last Detective Bridgett spotted her. She was overdoing the part, smoking too much, drinking too much and cussing with too much frequency to be a man.

"I tell you why I did it," said the prisoner to a reporter. "I couldn't live on the $6 a week I was getting as a bookbinder and keep straight at the same time. Men bookbinders who do the same work I was doing get $12 and $15 a week. So I had my hair cut off, put on trousers and determined to get a man's job. I answered an advertisement yesterday and was to have landed a job this morning."

The girl was still in male attire when interviewed. The police and magistrate are very curious to know who she really is, but she refuses to say anything about herself except that "Catherine Clark is a good enough description."

NEW HAVEN BOND PLEA

Public Service Hearing on $67,000,000 Issue

BOSTON, Aug. 28.—The public service commission has taken its first action in the matter of the issue of securities by the New Haven by designating Sept. 9 as the date for the hearing upon the petition of the railroad for authority to issue debenture bonds to the amount of $67,000,000.

The proposed bond issue of the New Haven under the authority of the commission which derives its powers from the recently enacted Washburn bill, have been widely discussed since the bill made its appearance in the legislature.

Gov. Foss vetoed the Washburn bill on the ground that the authority to approve bond issues should not have been coupled with that part of the act which created the public service commission.

When the bill had been passed over the governor's veto, Louis D. Brandeis wrote to the public service commission in protest against the issue of further securities.

Before Sept. 9, the governor will name a public service commissioner to succeed George Lawrence, who has just resigned. The governor did not send in his expected list of appointments yesterday.

It had been stated that he would appoint his secretary, George M. Harlow of Boston, to succeed the late Commissioner Emery. But the governor observed yesterday that there was to be no hurry about the matter.

The governor sent the following nominations to the council:

Charles L. Hibbard of Pittsfield, as justice of the district court of Central Berkshire in place of the late Judge Charles E. Burke.

Bernard H. Whitney of Dedham to succeed Charles J. Collins of South Boston on the board of registration in optometry. Under the law Mr. Collins could not be reappointed.

The executive council also voted to give a hearing upon the development of the port of Boston next Wednesday morning at 10 o'clock.

The chamber of commerce, the real estate exchange and the directors of the port of Boston have been invited to attend.

The hearing is the result of a protest received from the Massachusetts Real Estate Exchange. It contends that the governor and council should not assent to proposed expenditures by the port directors until the directors have submitted plans for "the comprehensive development of the harbor."

The exchange says that the legislature provided that such plans should first be produced.

GONE TO HER REWARD

Mrs. J. B. Carrier Was Buried This Morning

The funeral of Mrs. J. B. Carrier, one of the best known residents of St. Joseph's parish took place this morning from her home, 13 Draught street, Pawtucketville and was largely attended. Deceased whose maiden name was Adeline Lacroix, was born at St. Francois, La. Lae, Que., nearly 55 years ago. She came to Lowell 31 years ago and during her stay in this city, she always lived in St. Joseph's parish, being connected with many parochial affairs.

Mrs. Carrier will be missed, especially by the poor element of the parish, for she was noted as a friend to the poor, and many a sacrifice she made to help those in need. She was at one time president of St. Antoine Sewing circle of St. Joseph's parish, and was connected with St. Anne's sodality and the Third Order of St. Francis. She was a true Christian mother and one sure to make friends wherever she went. Deceased is survived by two sons, Rev. Edward J. Carrier, O. M. I., of San Antonio, Tex., who was at her bedside when she died, and her son, who had requested that her son come to her only a few days ago, when he was about to go back to his flock in the south. It was at this time she asked him to postpone his departure, for she said she believed God would favor her before the end of the week was over. She also leaves to mourn her loss another son, Joseph, of this city, and five daughters, Sister St. Vincent of Ottawa, Ont., Sister Marie Jeanne of Pembroke, Ont., both of the Order of the Gray Nuns of the Cross; Mrs. Louis Cayer, Sophie and Anna Carrier, all of this city.

A solemn high mass of requiem was celebrated at 9:30 o'clock at St. Joseph's church, the officiating clergyman being a son of deceased, Rev. E. J. Carrier, O. M. I., of San Antonio, Tex., assisted by Rev. Avile Amyot, O. M. I., as deacon and Rev. Aquila Gratton, O. M. I., as sub-deacon. Among the clergymen attending the funeral were Rev. Bernard P. Fletcher, O. M. I., and Rev. T. Franklin Wood, O. M. I., of the Sacred Heart church; Rev. Hervey Racette, O. M. I., D. D., Rev. Charles Denzot, O. M. I., D. D., Rev. E. J. Carrier, O. M. I., Rev. Armand Baron, O. M. I., and Rev. Charles Audibert, O. M. I., all of St. Joseph's, and Rev. A. Magann, O. M. I., of Notre Dame de Lourdes.

The bearers were Theophile Delisle, Edmond Gaudette, Abraham Jutra, F. X. Daigle, William Couillard and Arthur N. Boulais. The Third Order of St. Francis was represented by the following delegation: Mesdames J. W. Alexander, Sr., William Couillard, Isidore Labrie and Abraham Jutra. St. Anne's sodality had the following delegation: Mesdames Charles Lacroix, Hilaire Doulos, Arthur N. Boulais and J. St. Jean. Among the many floral offerings were pieces from the following: St. Anne's sodality, St. Joseph's college alumni and many friends. Burial was in St. Joseph's cemetery, where the communal prayers were read by Rev. E. J. Carrier, O. M. I., assisted by Rev. Hervey Racette, O. M. I., Rev. Aquila Gratton, O. M. I., and Rev. Avile Amyot, O. M. I. Funeral arrangements were in charge of Undertaker Joseph Albert.

GIVE POOR MAN A CHANCE

Was Keynote of Discussion by Governors

COLORADO SPRINGS, Col., Aug. 28.—State regulation of nominations, the same as of elections, was urged by Gov. Simeon E. Baldwin of Connecticut, in an address before the governors' conference here yesterday afternoon. Gov. Baldwin proposed that the state assume the expense of nomination; so that the poor man would not be deterred from entering politics because of lack of the necessary funds, which often furnishes ground, he said, for the accusation that a worthy candidate, though poor, is forced to accept the help of those whose support is an incubation.

Among the items Gov. Baldwin would have the states pay for are printing and distribution of ballots, traveling expenses of the candidates and speakers in his behalf and expenses incidental to his election. The cost of circulating petitions and expenses of personal nature he would have the candidate pay.

Gov. O. B. Colquitt of Texas, precipitated a lively discussion of the subject when he declared that the idea is far-sighted and altogether impracticable. He stated that it cost him $15,000 to get elected of which he paid $7000 and his friends $8000.

"Did your friends expect to get their money's worth?" asked Gov. Carey of Wyoming.

"You bet your life they are getting their money's worth," hotly retorted the Texas governor.

The governors spent the entire afternoon on Mount Manitou. After lunch, served on the mountainside, the governors indulged in about two hours' sports and recreation, a feature of which was a burro race. Mounted on donkeys the governors were taken to the highest point of the mountain and began the down grade scramble.

"I see where my next campaign ends," excitedly remarked Gov. William T. Haines of Maine as the scrambling burro on which he was riding, galloped along the rim of a precipice 1000 feet above a chasm, into which he expected every minute to be plunged.

date of my reply, to the 25th, in which you delivered to me your second note which I am here answering, the essence and even the form of his original instructions are the same with the aggravating feature well qualified by you as 'more restricted.'

"For my part it would have been sufficient to answer this note in its totality by reproducing the whole of my note of the 16th instant as negative as categorical, as I have the honor to reproduce it in this present note. But the present ad interim wishes to carry his forbearance to the last point and to the end that the various foreign governments which have offered their good offices in the most delicate manner may be duly informed has authorized me to reply to you in the following terms.

"If your original proposals were not to be admitted they are now in the more restricted form in which they are reproduced even more inadmissible.

Forget Our Sovereignty

"Precisely because we comprehend the immense value which is possessed by the principle of sovereignty which the government of the United States so opportunely invokes in the question of our recognition or non-recognition precisely for this reason we believed it would never have been proposed to us we should forget our own sovereignty by permitting that a foreign government should modify the line of conduct which we have to follow in our public and independent life.

"If even once we were to permit the counsels and advice (let us call them thus) of the United States of America, not would we, as I say above, forgo our sovereignty, but we would as well compromise for an indefinite future our destinies as a sovereign entity, and all the future elections for president would be submitted to the vote of any president of the United States."

Minister Gamboa describes the Mexican constitutional provisions regarding elections, which he declared prevent the constitutional ad interim president of the republic from being a candidate at the forthcoming elections. "If His Excellency, President Wilson," he continues, "had taken into consideration that paragraph before venturing to impose upon us the conditions in question and which we may not admit the present state of affairs between you and ourselves would have been avoided.

Question of Motive

"I beg to inform you, Mr. Confidential Agent, that up to the present time at least only the president of the United States of America has spoken en of the candidacy of the constitutional ad interim president at the forthcoming elections.

"Neither the solemn declaration of this high functionality nor the most insignificant of his acts—all of which have been done with a view of obtaining a complete pacification of the country which is the supreme national aim and which he has decided to bring about in spite of everything—have authorized anyone even to suspect that such are his ultimate intentions.

"The question having been set forth as I have had the honor of doing in this reply, His Excellency, Mr. Wilson, will have to withdraw definitely from his present attitude at the risk that his motives may be wrongly and differently interpreted by all the other nations which look upon our present international conflict with more or less interest.

"Permit Mr. Confidential Agent, not to reply for the time being to the significant offer in which the government of the United States of America insinuates that it will recommend to American bankers the immediate extension of a loan; among other things to cover the innumerable urgent expenses required by the progressive pacification of the country; for in the terms in which it is couched it appears more to be an attractive antecedent proposal to the end that moved by petty interests we should renounce a company them to her home in South right which incontrovertibly upholds us at a period when the dignity of the nation is at stake.

"I believe that there are not loans enough to induce those charged by the law to maintain that dignity to permit it to be lessened.

Solution of Conflict

"In view of this, my confidential agent, today more than ever we profoundly hope for an immediate solution of the conflict which, unfortunately, has separated us. I could go even further. I would renounce on our part the demand that our respective ambassadors be received immediately, since for the end in view the present personnel of our reciprocal embassies is sufficient, if it remains as it has been heretofore until the elections of October have taken place; but I will always stand on the unavoidable condition which declares that we are in reality the ad interim constitutional government of the Mexican republic."

The note ends with expressions of personal esteem.

Mr. and Mrs. W. H. Carr and family of Stamford, Conn., and Miss K. M. Sweeney of South Norwalk, who have been motoring through Massachusetts and New Hampshire, are now visiting with Mrs. Carr's sister, Mrs. H. D. Russell of 42 Seventh street. On their return Miss M. E. MacFarland will accompany them to her home in South Norwalk.

The Aggravating Feature

"You add furthermore, Mr. confidential agent, that the president of the United States has authorized you to say that if my government acts immediately and favorably upon the foregoing suggestions that same president will express to American bankers and their associates assurances that the government of the United States will then look with favor upon the extension of an immediate loan sufficient in amount to meet the temporary requirements of the present Mexican administration.

"It appears at once that in case the proposal of his excellency, Mr. Woodrow Wilson, is not to remove himself an iota from the position originally assumed by him, for notwithstanding the time consumed since the 15th, the

SCIENTISTS AND EDUCATORS

Say the Time Has Come When Attitude Toward Sex Hygiene Should be Revolutionized

BUFFALO, N. Y., Aug. 28.—Scientists and educators of world wide fame at the fourth international congress on school hygiene, in special session yesterday, agreed with practical unanimity that the time had come when the attitude of the world's educational institutions toward sex hygiene should be revolutionized. They saw in the silence of the past on the subject a growing and real menace to the future of the race that must be combated by a system of education without exaggeration or morbid suggestion. Public opinion, they maintained, has already reached the point where this revolution is demanded.

A remarkable change in public opinion has taken place in regard to sex hygiene," Dr. Charles W. Elliot, president of the congress said, "using the term in its broadest sense. The policy of silence was almost universal. Medical discoveries have contributed to the shift in public opinion which also has been moved by the many signs of physical deterioration consequent on the rush to city life. Fathers and mothers feel a new duty toward their

Louis Bruguiere Is Surprised by Mail

NEWPORT, R. I., Aug. 28.—Louis S. Bruguiere yesterday recovered the sapphire shirt stud and diamond cuff links which were taken from his automobile while he was at a dinner at Oakland Farms Sunday evening. They came to him by special delivery in an envelope on which there was only Mr. Bruguiere's address and the postmark "Newport," Aug. 26, 3 p. m. The shirt stud and links were wrapped separately and neatly in tissue paper of a foreign make, but with nothing on it to indicate where it was obtained. Mr. Bruguiere has turned over the envelope and wrapping to the police.

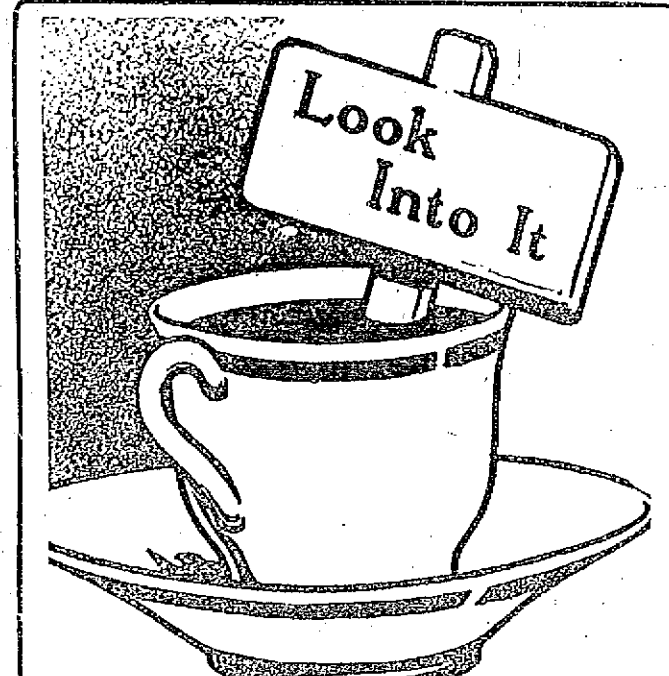

The entire affair is shrouded in mystery. Naturally both Mr. and Mrs. Alfred Vanderbilt are anxious to solve the problem, as Mr. Bruguiere brought the extra shirt in his automobile to their dinner last Sunday evening, intending to don fresh linen when he left Oakland Farms, as he was going to the late dance given by Mrs. John Astor, but when he got into the machine and took up the dress suit case which had contained the shirt and studs the shirt was missing. An ordinary cup of coffee contains about 2 1/2 grains of caffeine—a poisonous drug.

Five grains of caffeine is enough to kill a rabbit. Of course that much wouldn't kill a man.

But continual coffee drinking usually produces biliousness, headache, dullness, sleeplessness, irritability and heart agitation. Many people have gotten rid of these troubles by quitting coffee and using

INSTANT POSTUM

It is pure and made entirely of Northern wheat and the juice of Southern sugar-cane. Postum is a genuine food-drink—rich in Nature's phosphates, and contains no drug whatever.

Postum comes in two forms.

Regular Postum (must be boiled.)

Instant Postum requires no boiling, but is made instantly by stirring a level teaspoonful in a cup of hot water with cream and sugar to taste.

Experiment until you get it to suit your taste, then have it always made that way. Made right, Postum has a delightful flavor, resembling high-grade Java.

If coffee don't agree, suppose you leave it off ten days and try Postum.

Drink it instead of coffee.

ORGANIZER FRANK YOUNG

Has Left Lowell—The Machinists to Parade

Organizer Frank Young who came to Lowell about five weeks ago to organize the local machinists has been ordered to leave the city, where it is alleged, the pay of the machinists has been reduced.

Mr. Young left this city yesterday, but will keep in touch with conditions here while at Millers Falls. As an organizer it is generally conceded that Mr. Young has few equals. The machinists held an overflow meeting in Hibernian hall Tuesday evening and completed their arrangements for Labor Day parade. Michael J. Monahan was elected chief marshal of the "Dorcas" division and Robert Spencer was elected aide to the chief marshal of the parade.

The meeting was addressed by Mr. Young, John Connolly and William Sprague.

INDUSTRIAL SCHOOL

Principal Fisher Will Open His Office For Registration Next Week—Pupils From Out of Town

The Lowell Industrial school will re-open on September 3, and Principal Thomas F. Fisher is being kept busy at the present time making the preliminary arrangements for the opening.

Many new pupils registered as early as last June and everything indicates an unusually large attendance for the coming year.

With the exception of Labor day all next week will be given over to registration and consultation. The principal's office in the old Mann school will be open from 10.30 a. m. to 1 p. m. for this purpose.

There have been many registrations from out of town thus far, and if last year may be taken as a guide there will be many more as 25 per cent. of the registration last year was out of town pupils.

SOCIAL AND FRATERNAL

The Benevolent Order of Buffaloes met in regular session last night in their rooms in Odd Fellows temple with a large number of people present. A list of routine business was transacted and the following officers were installed to serve for the coming six months: Past president, W. J. Forde; president, J. E. Hughes; vice president, G. H. Crowell; chaplain, J. R. McLean; secretary, J. E. Lyle; treasurer, W. W. Murphy; marshal, Robert Dempsey; inside guard, H. P. Murphy; outside guard, F. A. Crossley; J. H. Crook, H. J. Draper and Edward Sheridan, physicians, Dr. Wesley Sawyer and Dr. H. B. Plunkett. Supreme Secretary Charles H. Dean acted as installing officer.

Echo Lodge, N. E. O. P.

The regular meeting of Echo Lodge, N. E. O. P., was held last night, and four applications for membership were received. A class initiation is being planned for the next meeting, and it is expected that many visiting officers will be present. Brother Stuart of White Hill lodge, was present at the meeting and addressed the members on the good of the order.

GEN. JONES' WILL

Presented for Probate—Left Estate Estimated at From $100,000 to $125,000—Widow Gets Annuity of $3000

BINGHAMTON, N. Y., Aug. 28.—The will of Gen. Edward F. Jones of this city was presented for probate yesterday. The value of the estate is estimated at from $100,000 to $125,000, and to the petition the personal property is set forth as being worth over $10,000. The will bears the date of June 11, 1910. It says: "I desire that the seal ring containing the picture of my wife, Sara Antoinette Taggart Jones, together with two plain rings I am in the habit of wearing, shall be mailed together and that one of my executors shall be present at the act of mailing, and not trust it to any one else, and the gold when so mailed shall be disposed of by my executors."

The will further directs that the remains of Sara Antoinette Jones, the first wife, residing in Pepperell cemetery, in Massachusetts, be disinterred and taken to Auburn for cremation, along with the body of the general, and provision be made for a tablet in Mt. Auburn cemetery, Boston.

The second clause in the will directs that "rapid" the old white carriage horse, be killed rather than be entrusted to other hands. "Rapid" is 30 years of age and he will be killed at once. The war relics are left to his son, Gerry Jones.

The widow gets an annuity of $3000 a year. Gerry Jones gets $2000 worth of stock in the Jones Scale Co., and the balance is divided into small bequests among charities. No provision is made for charity.

MAY HEAD ZIONISTS

Boston Man is Favored For Leader

BOSTON, Aug. 28.—That Louis D. Brandeis may become the next active head of the Zionist movement of the world became a leading topic in Hebrew circles yesterday.

His name is to be presented at the 10th international Zionist congress which will be held in Vienna next week. If he is appointed he will fill the place left nine years ago by Dr. Theodore Herzl.

Rabbi H. H. Rubinstein and Julius Meyer of this city are the Massachusetts delegates to the congress. They are pledged to present and urge the name of Mr. Brandeis. It is believed that Mr. Brandeis will receive the appointment and that he will accept it. No expression could be obtained from him last night, and his friends declined to discuss the subject in his absence.

Among the prominent Zionists who declare that Mr. Brandeis will receive and accept the appointment is Isaac Heller of Roxbury. He said last night: "We want Mr. Brandeis. He has been very helpful."

"His leadership was always apparent in our movement, as it is in law and everything he undertakes. We have known for days that he would be our candidate, and we have reason to hope that he will accept the trust."

Zionism is based upon the idea of internationalism, the preservation of nations, the development of distinctive characters and their peaceful relations. Zionism opposes a vague cosmopolitanism that would reduce all men and nations to one type. As a consequence it opposes the absorption of the Jew by the people among whom he lives. Zionism is the expression of the Jew's belief in himself, in his power to be of service to humanity as a Jew.

Should Brandeis be appointed international leader of the Zionist movement, he will be in charge of millions of Zionists of all parts of the world. He will also be in charge of all the branches and be the sole director of the movement.

Last April when Herr Sokoloff, the noted Zionist agitator was in Boston, Brandeis presided at the meeting held in the Plymouth theatre. Brandeis' eloquent speech on Zionism was published in the Zionist publications all over the world.

Brandeis was born in Louisville, Ky., in 1856. He is a Jew, and for a century back his family has been made up of men of means, education and social ideals.

MEETING OF PROGRESSIVES

They Are Interested in the Selection of Precinct Officers—Candidates Present

An enthusiastic meeting of the city progressive committee was held at their headquarters, 159 Merrimack street, last night, and continued until midnight. Chairman Charles H. Hobson was in the chair.

A committee consisting of Captain A. D. Milton, Cecil Dodge and Edward P. Fontaine was appointed to interview the business commissioner George H. Brown, and counsel with him on the matter of having progressive precinct officers appointed.

Charles H. McIntyre, candidate for county commissioner, Daniel Crook, the party's nominee for lieutenant governor and several others made short speeches.

PLAYGROUND EXHIBITIONS

Closing Yesterday Postponed Till Friday on Account of the Thunder Storm

On account of the severe rain and electrical storm which hovered over this city in the early part of the afternoon yesterday, the closing exercises on the local playgrounds were postponed until tomorrow afternoon, but nevertheless a good gathering assembled on all the playgrounds, for it was believed the events would be carried out after the storm.

The Middlesex County Training school band, which was scheduled to give a concert on the South common, arrived shortly after the storm, and on account of this corps of young musicians being engaged for tomorrow afternoon, a concert was given and much enjoyed by the large gathering.

On the Aiken street playground Frank Ricard was the man of the hour. Mr. Ricard in the forenoon decorated the summer house with American and French flags and bunting and in the afternoon he conducted a number of races, giving suitable prizes to the winners, those prizes consisting of silver rings, watch fobs, and other fine pieces of jewelry as well as some cash. Mr. Ricard was well received by the little ones and at the close of the event he was given three good cheers and a tiger.

Appointed Co-Receiver

BOSTON, Aug. 28.—Judge Robert O. Harris of Bridgewater was appointed co-receiver of the Walpole Tire & Rubber company of Walpole, by Judge Dodge in the United States district court yesterday. He will act with Robert M. Fischer of New York. It was announced by counsel for the creditors' protective committee that at a meeting of the creditors and stockholders committees on Tuesday plans were proposed considering reorganization of the company.

Whitman on Warpath

NEW YORK, Aug. 28.—The reported activity of Tammany Hall in the impeachment proceedings against Governor Sulzer was made a matter of inquiry yesterday by District Attorney Whitman. Former Judge Lynn J. Arnold of Albany, a friend of Mr. Sulzer, conferred with Mr. Whitman, who examined two "investigators" called in by Judge Arnold. Their identity was not disclosed, nor would Mr. Whitman say whether their statements were of value nor discuss the possible scope of the inquiry. It was stated that the names of several Tammany Hall men were mentioned and that Mr. Whitman would have further conversation with Judge Arnold.

Lord Strathcona

NEW YORK, Aug. 28.—Lord Strathcona, Canadian high commissioner in England, who sailed for this country on Saturday last, has accepted an invitation to attend the annual meeting and banquet of the American Bar association in Montreal, Sept. 1. The association had made public yesterday Lord Strathcona's cable acceptance, sent just before he sailed.

HOUSES STRUCK BY LIGHTNING

Damage in Several of Suburban Towns During Storm Yesterday—House Was Burned

During the sharp thunderstorm of yesterday lightning struck in several of the suburban towns, but no serious damage was done. The wires of the New England line of the Bay State street railway were put out of commission and eighteen cars were held up, some of them having been damaged so much that they had to be towed to the repair shop.

Lightning Struck at Billerica

The thunderstorm that reached Billerica shortly after noon yesterday was one of the most severe in years, and although no serious damage was done, houses were struck by lightning and several lives were in danger. A two-story house owned by the Talbot family and situated on Lowell street was struck during the storm and the plaster was torn from the wall and a mirror and other pieces of furniture destroyed, although they did not take fire. The tenants were occupied at the time, but fortunately no one was injured. A house owned by the Boston & Maine railroad and located near the repair shops was struck and a telephone put out of order, but no serious damage resulted. The cables on telephone wires were destroyed and the car service was delayed about an hour during the progress of the storm.

Damage at Westford
The house owned by Samuel H. Hatch in Westford was struck by lightning during the storm yesterday afternoon and several boards were ripped off the side of the house, but it did not catch fire. A large elm tree near the center of the town was hit and broken off, while the telephone lines were put out of order by the terrific flashes of lightning.

Bolt Struck at Chelmsford

One of the Wilson cottages in Littleton street, Chelmsford, was struck by a bolt of lightning yesterday afternoon, but fortunately very little damage was caused. However, the occupants of the house miraculously escaped with their lives, for the bolt went through the building and into the ground.

The place is occupied by George Crowell and family, and when the bolt struck the house Mrs. Crowell was standing on the piazza talking with a carpenter. The man was thrown to the ground, and Mrs. Crowell received a bad shock.

Struck by Lightning
The barn adjoining the residence of Dr. Edwin L. Farrington on the Boston road, Chelmsford, was struck by lightning yesterday afternoon, but fortunately the damage was slight.

In the course of the heavy storm a bolt of lightning struck the roof of the stable, but on account of the wet condition of the wood the fire was not set. The bolt went through the building and into the ground, without causing much damage.

Mr. Shinkwin's House Burned
Lightning struck the house of Robert Shinkwin in East Chelmsford yesterday, but no serious damage was done. The bolt entered through the chimney and followed the wiring into the cellar. A small fire started but was extinguished by people who were in the house at the time.

STRIKERS SHOT BY MILL GUARDS

STEOBENVILLE, O., Aug. 28.—As a result of the rioting at the Pope Tin Plate Co. mill last night Mayor McLeish today had warrants issued for the arrest of John P. Floyd, assistant superintendent of the mill, E. M. Mensor, manager, and John T. Bradley, captain of the mill guards. Others may be arrested also in the attempt to fasten the responsibility for the shooting by the mill guards of a number of the strikers, two of whom are expected to die.

STRONG AT START

THE ADVANCE IN PRICES INDICATED
That Yesterday's Decline Was Due to Professional Selling Rather Than Mexican Situation
NEW YORK, Aug. 28.—Trading began today with a distinctly strong tone and a keen inquiry for the favorable stocks. The advance in prices indicated that yesterday's late decline was due to professional selling rather than to a less hopeful view of the Mexican situation following delivery of President Wilson's message, for stocks were marked up with ease in spite of the fact there had been no change in Mexican affairs over night. The demand for the copper stocks was particularly good, and several large blocks changed hands. Smelting led the advance with a rise of 1 1/2 on the first few transactions. Gains of heavy loss were made by Reading, Steel, Interborough-Met, preferred and American Express, while Amal and New Haven rose nearly as much. American Agricultural Chemical, one of the strong features yesterday, fell 1 1/2.

News from Mexico during the morning gave the situation a more promising appearance, and speculation took on confident tone. Buying of Reading and Steel was aggressive. The strong statistical position of the copper metal, and reports of higher prices here and abroad, induced active accumulation of the copper group. Continued strength of the cotton market and further reports of serious conditions in sections of the cotton belt, while distinctly unfavorable to the stock market, passed unnoticed, and the unusually heavy loss of cash by the banks on sub-treasury operations, which brought up the total thus far this week to more than $10,000,000, bonds were firm.

The advance was continued in the afternoon trading and increased confidence was shown by speculators. The Harriman stocks were leaders and Union Pacific rose nearly three points above yesterday's low price. Southern Pacific showed sustained strength despite the unfavorable character of the July statement which revealed a decrease in net earnings of $756,000. Traders who sold freely yesterday reversed their position and bought largely. Money market conditions were not affected by the prospect of a poor bank statement and the engagement of $1,000,000 gold for shipment to Canada. Sterling exchange weakened, demand falling under 4 1/2 on a more liberal supply of commercial acceptance.

The market closed strong. Bulls seemed satisfied with what they had previously accomplished and marked time in the final hour. Prices failed to get above earlier levels.

GAMBOA'S NOTE TO JOHN LIND

Refers to Proposals That Were Rejected—Mexican Minister Quotes Friendly Sentiments

WASHINGTON, Aug. 28.—The supplementary note sent by Federico Gamboa, Mexican secretary of state for foreign affairs to John Lind at Vera Cruz on the night of August 16, was made public here. It follows in part:

"Yesterday I had the honor of receiving from your hands a note in which you are pleased to state that, from the scope of your instructions you reply to the note of this government, given to you through me of the 16th inst. You are pleased to repeat those same instructions, the paragraph which translated says literally:

"We wish to act in the present circumstances under the inspiration of the most lively and distinguished friendship. We propose in all we do or say by reason of this serious situation not only to maintain the most scrupulous respect for the sovereignty and independence of Mexico—and we consider ourselves obliged to that respect by all the considerations of honor or right—but as well to give all possible proofs that we are working only in the interests of Mexico and not for any person or group of persons who might have claims relating to themselves or to their properties in this country and who might consider themselves with a right to demand their settlement. What we intend is to counsel Mexico for her own good and in the interest of her own peace and with no other object of any kind. The government of the United States would consider itself discredited if it had in mind any selfish or ulterior motive, considering that the negotiations in hand concern the peace, welfare and prosperity of a whole people. We are working, not with selfish interest but

BORN OF THE TRAVAIL OF HIS SOUL

LONDON, Aug. 28.—In commenting on the Mexican situation today, the Pall Mall Gazette says:

"We fully understand President Wilson's message is born of the travail of his soul. He is a good and devout man, earnestly desirous of furthering the ideals of peace and justice, but on him rests the responsibility for protecting not only the interests of the Americans in Mexico but the lives of some thousands of Americans who have settled there.

"The application of moral force consists in urging all the citizens of the United States in Mexico to abandon their occupations and to clear out of the country and in proposing measures which must rest on physical force for preventing the entry of arms and munitions into the country either for provisional President Huerta or for the rebels. We shall watch the result of the steady pressure of moral force with much interest but without much belief in its efficacy."

PRESIDENT'S MESSAGE WELL RECEIVED IN ITALY

ROME, Aug. 28.—President Wilson's message on the Mexican situation has produced a great impression in Italy owing to the large number of Italians in Mexico. Notwithstanding the expressions of the United States for friendship to Mexico the advice to Americans to leave Mexico is thought here to be a forecast of American intervention in Mexico.

M'GARY WAS FOUND NOT GUILTY

After Long Trial on Charges of Larceny—Two Milkmen Were Fined Today

The McGary case was the only one of interest heard in the local police court, and this kept Judge Enright on the bench until well past the noon hour. McGary was adjudged not guilty by the court on all three counts of the complaint made against him for larceny from his former employer, Harry Pitts.

Little or no new evidence was injected into the trial by this morning's rebuttal on both sides. The summing up, however, occupied over an hour, and the case was taken up at length by Attorney Regan for the prosecution and Daniel J. Donahue, Esq. for the defense.

In the summary of the evidence produced in the case Judge Enright found as follows: "On the first count, that of stealing the bag of money, no evidence has been produced to show that more than a suspicion rests upon the defendant and that others had an equal opportunity to take it. On the second count, that of stealing a sale of $1.25, I find the defendant not guilty, as the cash register slips which the prosecution offers do not form sufficient evidence. On the third count, wherein the defendant is accused of taking $0.75, his word is equal to that of the witness who testified he saw him take it, and I discharge the defendant on all three counts."

Two milk dealers were fined when they made their appearance in court this morning, charged with violation of the state law dealing with the milk standard. Nicolas Parackos was fined $10, and Frank L. Peabody was taxed $15 for not having their milk up to this standard.

Dennis Reardon was fined $15 for his third appearance for drunkenness within the current year. There were only two releases by the probation officer.

DEAD AS A RESULT OF DRINKING WOOD ALCOHOL

TUNKHANNOCK, Pa., Aug. 28.—Three men are dead and one is dying here as the result, it is believed, of drinking wood alcohol in mistake for grain alcohol and whiskey. The four men were found mortally ill in widely separated places of the countryside last night and three died within a short time. The dead are Harry Feldman, aged 21; Jeffery Ross, 45; George Weiss, 50; Percy Newell, 35 years old; the fourth member of the party is not expected to live.

IMPERATOR SWEEPED BY FIRE

Panic on the Giant Liner as Fire Seizes Her in Hoboken—Second Officer Suffocated

NEW YORK, Aug. 26.—The steamer Emperor, largest vessel afloat, was swept by fire early today as she lay at her dock in Hoboken with her crew and 1131 steerage passengers aboard. Second Officer Gobrecht, who led the crew into the hold to fight the flames, was cut off from his men, enveloped in a cloud of smoke and suffocated. His body was found an hour after the ship was untouched by fire and brought ashore.

A seaman, one of the party who went down with Gobrecht into the bowels of the vessel, was missing at roll call. He undoubtedly perished, too.

The small army in the steerage, aroused from their sleep by the crackling flames, rushed, panic-stricken for the pier. Most of them returned to the ship or their clothing when reassured by the ship's officers, and spent the remainder of the night huddled in discomfort at the shore end of the pier. None of the steerage passengers had been inspected by the customs or health authorities. Because of this.

FIREMEN'S MUSTER

common were friends of the various competing companies from out of town. With a few exceptions, all of the 27 machines that were scheduled to appear in parade had put in an appearance at the junction of Branch and Middlesex streets at 10 o'clock. They fell into line with great order and when the chief marshal of the parade, Fred H. Bourke, gave the word to march, there was absolutely no hesitation or confusion; the long and much varied line got in motion with accuracy and precision.

Lowell Fire Department
The first feature of the parade, and one that aroused exclamations of admiration on all sides, was the apparatus of the Lowell Fire department. The various modern machines made a splendid appearance as they filed past with their brilliant colors, their shining brasses, and their alert and neatly uniformed men. All of the local department practically was represented, with the exception of a few pieces that were kept in the downtown houses for a possible emergency. There were 12 hose wagons, all fully manned, 5 steamers, 4 trucks, the water tower, the protector, two chemicals and some minor pieces of apparatus. Fire Chief Saunders, who rode at the head of the line in his department automobile, received a great ovation all along the line as the local department came in view. With him was Police Chief Redmond Welch, who rode in his carriage.

Platoon of Police
Immediately after the local fire department came a platoon of police on foot. The officers comprising this body were: Patrolmen Kenney, Cullen, Winn, Crow, Heslan, Considine, Nickles, Noonan and Lieutenant Connors.

Next in order came the chief of staff, Patrick H. Ryan, Adjutant Thomas Chinn, and twenty aids, all on horseback. The chief of staff wore a broad lavender sash, and the adjutant was distinguished by one of a rich dark red.

The Aids to Chief Marshal
The aids, who looked splendid as they rode three abreast, were the following: John J. Lee, Henry Reynolds, Charles H. Morse, Arthur King, Leo molloy, Jeremiah Connors, Nowell F. Putnam, John W. Daly, Edward Morris, Joseph H. Burns, Terrence Leonard, Herbert E. Elliott, Patrick Cogger, Erson B. Barlow, J. J. O'Connell, H. J. Thompson, J. Walter Bowers, Alex. Mackenzie, John Brady, Daniel Leary.

Mayor O'Donnell
Immediately after the aids came four carriages in which rode the high officers and past officers of the association. Mayor O'Donnell rode in the first of these. He also received a great ovation from the assembled crowds.

Next in order came the Epidemic City band in their gay uniforms playing with a vigor that betokened their consciousness of being followed by Chief Marshal Fred H. Bourke, James H. Walker, president of the association, and Humphrey O'Sullivan.

Chief Marshal Bourke
Chief Marshal Bourke walked in the center wearing a frock coat and silk hat and President Walker and Humphrey O'Sullivan who walked on his right and left respectively, wore the scarlet uniform of the Butler vets, who, to the number of about 50, followed, walking erect and in perfect order. They drew the famous Liberty tub, which, despite the great variety of ancient machines present, kept the interest of the Lowell populace all along the line of march. One of the most picturesque individuals in the parade was A. E. Curtis, grandson of the famous old veteran Thomas H. Curtis. Mr. Curtis represented his grandfather in the present instance and wore the celebrated old hat of the latter, which is over 40 years old.

Lowell was also represented well by the juvenile branch of the Butler Vets who, to the number of 50, approximately, followed, pulling the ancient and quaint Wamsett tub, which is usually on exhibition in the Middle street office of the fire chief.

Out of Town Companies
The first out of town company in the parade was the Triumph No. 1 of Dorwick, Me., which seemed to appreciate the honor of being first in line. Following them came the Eureka veterans' band which preceded the Eureka tub No. 1, of Portsmouth, N. H. After this company, which made a fine appearance, came the Converse of Malden, which arrived late and was not in line at the time of starting, but got in line before the parade had proceeded very far.

PRESIDENT'S MESSAGE

Having a Good Effect in Mexico

WASHINGTON, Aug. 28.—After an early conference with Secretary Bryan and Senator Bacon of the foreign relations committee President Wilson let it be known that the Mexican situation is encouraging. The president thinks things are changing in Mexico and that something tangible will soon be known. There was no evidence here early today that the Huerta government had agreed to the American plan but the disposition of the Mexican administration to withdraw some of its proposals has encouraged the belief in official circles that the president's message is having a good effect in Mexico.

MANUFACTURING SENTIMENT

In "The World's Work" for September is a very interesting and illuminating article by Senator Charles S. Thomas of Colorado entitled "My Adventures with the Sugar Lobby," and with the still more timely sub-title: "How the Sugar People Manufactured Public Opinion." Though but a member of the United States senate for a few months, he says that the greater part of his time in that brief period has been spent in guarding against the approaches and the attacks of those "public spirited citizens" who have been attempting to influence his acts as senator by "the ostentatious parade of a manufactured public sentiment."

The senator knows whereof he speaks, for, as he says, it was during his term as governor of Colorado that the sugar industry began; in the same capacity he made the first contract for the sale of lands to the sugar growers. He has studied the question at first hand and this is his verdict:

"These several sugar industries—the beet growers, the cane growers of Louisiana and Hawaii—have for years maintained regular and expensive headquarters in Washington. These offices have served chiefly for the dissemination of information on the sugar question. Their purpose has been to cultivate or accelerate public sentiment favorable to maintaining a high protective duty on sugar."

For many years the head of the American Sugar Beet association personally conducted the publicity campaign, but two years ago it was handed over to the experienced hands of men trained for such work, the most important of whom is Mr. Truman Palmer. Of the work of the latter, Senator Thomas says:

"Mr. Palmer's chief activities have apparently been in securing wide circulation for his sugar ideas at public expense. Three years ago he wrote an elaborately illustrated pamphlet on 'Sugar at a Glance'—a complete treatment of the subject from the beet sugar side. Mr. Palmer succeeded in having this printed as a senate document; he even made numerous alterations in the copy as it was passing through the press. He sent 320,000 copies through the mails at government expense, thereby saving $2,200 in postage."

One of Mr. Palmer's associates, a certain Mr. Hamlin, has manufactured public opinion in other and not less successful ways. Not the least of these was the preparation of the sugar paragraph in the republican campaign text book of 1912. "The sugar question will be handled subject to our approval," he wrote, "in fact the matter will be furnished by us."

A very interesting part of Mr. Thomas' article is that which deals with the influence brought to bear on him by the sugar industry previous to his election, and the animosity that broke out against him in certain sections as soon as he declared that those who wished to get his opinion on sugar would find it in the democratic platform. "I am convinced," he says, "that the sugar lobby left by Mr. Charles Boucher, of the great western company, was back of this campaign."

He humorously shows up many weaknesses in the system of manufacturing public sentiment as resorted to by the sugar industry. He has received several thousands of letters from the employees of the sugar factories protesting against the cut in tariff. If these letters, he says: "Between the lines of this correspondence I think I can detect the influence of the traveling publicity expert." There is a uniformity about the style and a systematic emanation from various points at different times that removes from the protests all the features of spontaneity and sincerity. Furthermore a dozen telegrams received on May 12th were identical in phraseology and were addressed to Charles "H. Thomas—whereas his middle initial is "S." Of this Senator Thomas writes: "Either one man wrote all twelve messages or we have here a sensational instance of mental telepathy."

ANOTHER VIEW OF THAW CASE

Dear Sir:—I do not approve of your stand on the Thaw case and when I refer to your paper, I may say that most of the papers of the country take the same stand. Thaw is not insane and he would be a free man today if he were not rich. Stanford White deserved to be shot and the worst punishment that the courts would have meted out to Thaw had not the insanity plea been resorted to, would have been but four or five years' imprisonment for manslaughter. After serving a few years he would probably have been pardoned out. That is why I say he has suffered enough for his crime and that he should be set at liberty.

Truly yours,
Justice.

We admit that the contention of our correspondent expresses the view of a great many people. Thaw's lawyers made a great mistake in trying to prove him insane because under the provocation and the circumstances of the crime it could not have been made out more serious than manslaughter. He fired at White in a fit of rage and for a cause that would excite the race of any sensible man. In view of the fact that in many states the man who would shoot White under such circumstances would go scot free, we do not believe his sentence, had he been convicted, would have been a heavy one. Then after remaining a couple of years in prison, his case would appeal to public sympathy and he would have been set free. But his lawyers chose to prove him insane, although Thaw himself said he was not insane; and under similar tests and with the same array of experts, almost any man of nervous temperament might be proved insane.

It is true that had Thaw been convicted, he might today be a free man. That being a fact, he has undoubtedly suffered enough or too much for his crime. Had a common laborer shot White under precisely similar circumstances, he would have got a moderate sentence and with sympathy on his side, he might have been pardoned after a few years. But the prominence of Thaw, the fact that he was rich and the attention given his case by certain lawyers and sensational newspapers, all operated against him and much to the prejudice of his case. In this light the fact that he was wealthy did injure rather than help him.

He has now escaped from the horrors of an insane asylum and if he is not insane, it would be more in accordance with justice to set him free, than again to consign him to what must be to him a living hell. Many a man has suffered less for premeditated murder than has Thaw for his rash act of vengeance which in some states would be set down as justifiable homicide.

THE VACCINATION RULE

The rule that in future all pupils of public and private schools will have to show positive evidence of having been vaccinated or else a doctor's certificate stating that vaccination would be injurious to the individual pupil, is wise and timely. The recent smallpox scare revealed weaknesses in the working out of the regulations concerning vaccination which should never have been permitted. There are at present many who doubt the efficacy of vaccination as a preventive of the dread smallpox disease, but the weight of evidence of the medical profession and knowledge based on experience seems to favor it. Any rule which is not enforced is liable to do more harm than good, and this is especially true of such an important regulation as that which requires all school children to be vaccinated or show good reason why they are exempt from the rule.

DESERVED CASTIGATION

Rev. Fr. Donaldson, a New York pastor, like most pastors, has in his parish families in which the wife and mother or the minor children are obliged to work while the husband and father is a lazy loafer. But unlike most pastors he has got after these worthless men until he has made them ashamed of themselves. He says that they would not work if they got the chance, although they always excuse themselves by saying they cannot find work. He says they should be tied to a whipping post and flogged until they come to a realizing sense of their meanness and the enormity of their cruelty in living upon the lifeblood of poor women and children. Fr. Donaldson has set an example which some other pastors might well follow.

FIREMEN'S MUSTER

Today the city of Lowell extends a cordial welcome to the Veteran Firemen of New England and hopes they will all enjoy their visit. In 1905 they had a great gala day here and on this occasion it is hoped, their stay will be equally enjoyable. We would call their attention to the fine fire department of Lowell and to the Sun building as the only real fire-proof structure in Lowell. Our long line of textile factories will doubtless engage their attention as will the elegance of our principal streets. It is hoped they will carry away the most favorable impression of Lowell as a thriving and prosperous city.

Jack Johnson is not wanted in London. A fugitive from justice and the abuser of women, no decent theatre should engage him as an attraction and if he engaged no decent man or woman should go to see him, even through curiosity.

Seen and Heard

Bishop Candler of Atlanta, sponsor of worldly parsons, said the other day: "There was a worldly parson of this type in Philadelphia—a great fox hunter—whom a Spruce street Quaker took in hand."

"Friend," said the Quaker, "I understand thee's clever at fox-catchin'." "I have few equals and no superiors at that sport," the parson complacently replied.

"Nevertheless," said the Quaker, "if I were a fox I would hide where thou would never find me." "Where would you hide?" asked the parson with a frown.

"Friend," said the Quaker, "I would hide in thy study."

A well known insurance official said the other day in Chicago: "In the beginning of my career, when I was only a humble insurance agent, I gained access one morning to the august and formidable presence of J. Pierpont Morgan."

"Yes," the official insisted, "yes, it's a fact. Don't ask me how I did it, though, for that's a secret. But at 10 o'clock one morning, behold me, a young insurance agent, standing before the desk of the great J. Pierpont, with my big envelope of life-and-death statistics, twenty-year endowments and so forth in my hand. 'I was, I have just learned, the first and only insurance agent who ever managed to meet Mr. Morgan face to face.'"

"Well, what happened?" "Mr. Morgan," I began, hurriedly, you ought to carry more life insurance. You see, sir—"

"And lucidly and cogently I laid my insurance proposition before the great man."

"He listened in silence. Those fierce blue eyes of his bored me through like lanes. When I stopped at last, all he said was:—"

"How did you get in here?"

"I walked in," I answered.

"Well," said he, "walk out."

William J. Burns, the detective, proposes to train up a number of young college graduates in the detecting trade.

Talking about crime to a group of college graduate applicants for posts on his staff, Mr. Burns said: "It doesn't take me long to decide on a lad's suitability for this career. Only the other day, for example, I discharged a Yale first honor man after twenty-four hours' trial. His first case proved him valueless."

"What was his first case," asked a Harvard freshman.

"Theft of a box of soap," said Mr. Burns. "Theft of a box of soap from a freight car—and the lad arrested a tramp!"

TRANSFORMATION

Where is my wife of yesterday?

I miss her everywhere.

With double chin and baggy throat.

And silver in her hair.

I loved her for her solid walk.

I loved her for her solid talk.

I loved her for the wrinkles.

That had grown about her eyes.

I loved her for the wrinkles coming.

And I miss those wrinkles now.

For they came from mutual trouble.

And I matched them on my brow.

But the Beauty Doctor got her.

And he fixed her double chin.

And he paraded her shoulders.

And he pulled her waistline in.

And her figure of a matron.

Which I'd grown to know so well.

Is as slender as a willow.

And as swift as a gazelle.

Do I hunt that Beauty Doctor.

With a summons in my fist?

Do I swear eternal vengeance.

For the age-marks that I've missed?

Do I rage for charms and sympathy?

No! I found a minor note.

For she's got herself up shipshape.

To be ready for the vote.

DISTRICT ATTY. HIGGINS

Will Have No Republican Opponent

SEVERAL CANDIDATES ON DEMOCRATIC SIDE

William J. Corcoran of Cambridge Has Filed Papers as a Candidate—Irish Endorsed in Everett

It looks as though District Attorney John J. Higgins will have no opposition in his own party at the primaries this fall. The decision of Representative Nathan A. Tufts of Waltham to seek another term on Beacon Hill leaves Higgins alone in the field for the republican nomination. Second Assistant District Attorney Nelson P. Brown of Everett was urged to run but has declined to enter the contest.

On the democratic side of the fence Attorney William J. Corcoran of Cambridge is the only man who has papers out. Attorney William R. Scherborn, who represented "Dakota Dan" in the famous Russell will case, has not yet entered the race, although at the close of the celebrated will case he stated that he was going to run.

Attorney James J. Irwin of Everett, who ran against Higgins three years ago, has been endorsed by Everett democrats.

A committee of prominent county democrats interviewed the democratic state chairman "Tom" Riley of Malden, but "Tom" is after bigger game, and refused to bite. The same committee also called on ex-mayor John J. Shaughnessy of Marlboro, but he declined the honor owing to business reasons.

Attorney Joseph W. Bartlett of Newton was called on by the committee. Mr. Bartlett, a Dartmouth man, and is associated with his father, Gen. Charles A. Bartlett of Boston. The progressives have Attorney Philip M. Clark of Cambridge as their candidate.

With three aspirants for the office, the political pot in Middlesex county will soon start to boil with a vengeance.

Town Hall Destroyed by Lightning Five Minutes After Selectmen Adjourn Meeting

NEW GLOUCESTER, Me., Aug. 28.—Five minutes after the selectmen had adjourned yesterday afternoon, lightning struck the town building and literally tore it to pieces. Windows were ripped from the casements, doors unbinged and clapboards torn off and blown hundreds of feet. A chair in which one of the members had been sitting was split in two. Several fires were started but extinguished before much damage had been done. Every telephone line in town was put out of commission and communication out of town was not obtained until late last evening.

Nights For All

BOSTON, Aug. 28.—Arrangements were completed yesterday by the officers of the Cosmopolitan Equal Rights Association of Greater Boston for a public mass meeting that will be held next Thursday night in the First African Methodist Episcopal church, West End, to protest against discrimination, and to fight for equal recognition to all races.

The Cosmopolitan Equal Rights Association of Greater Boston was formed a short time ago to oppose discriminations, political and otherwise, among the various nationalities. The first gun for the coming campaign will be fired at the meeting.

Delegates from the various nationalities who claim that they are ignored politically and socially in Boston and Massachusetts have been invited to attend.

ARMED GUARDS SURROUNDED THEM

The immigration authorities planned to rush them to Ellis Island at the earliest possible moment this forenoon.

The great ship was dark with all on board asleep save the officers on watch when smoke ascending from the provision room was discovered simultaneously by a seaman on dog watch and a petty officer on the bridge. Almost at the same moment the crackling of flames was heard in the steerage quarters. A quiet alarm was sounded. Capt. Ruessor, commander-in-chief of the vessel, was among the first to respond. The crew of 1150 men were in their places within a minute. The complex fire fighting apparatus of the vessel was set in motion. Every compartment was ordered closed except those which it was necessary to leave open for the steerage passengers to get ashore.

Stampede in Steerage

The stampede of steerage passengers toward the deck checked for a moment the fight against the flames. Ship's officers and hundreds of the crew lined up in two columns along the route to safety, guided the terror-stricken men and women to the pier. With the ship clear, the entire force turned in to extinguish the flames.

For three-quarters of an hour they fought the fire with only the Imperator's own apparatus. Then the Hoboken fire department was notified and a general alarm was sounded.

In the first sharp skirmish with the flames, Second Officer Herman Gobrecht and Seaman Otto Strantz, caught in the withering belch of flames, were cut off from the door by which they had entered. Their companions were driven back to open air. Although they stormed the flames again and again the wall of smoke kept them from rescuing the two men.

Handsome Saloon Wrecked

A wisp of smoke curling into the second cabin when the flames were first discovered had by this time grown to a cloud. Through this cloud the Hoboken firemen rushed, dragging their hose. The dining saloon of the second cabin suffered the greatest damage from smoke and the work of the firemen. The handsome appointments of the saloon were a wreck when the smoke cleared away.

Despite the reinforcement of the firemen the flames gained headway. A tug steaming slowly down the river roused the waterfront with its siren. Fireboats from New York, a fleet of tugs and another battery of fire engines from Hoboken rushed to the pier.

A dozen tugs were held in readiness to tow the ship out to mid-stream as the flames threatened momentarily at their height to destroy her. Preparations were made to cut the liner's moorings when the fireboats began pumping water into the hold.

With 15 streams playing hundreds of tons of water on the fire every minute the flames lost headway and the vessel began to list. At 5 o'clock there were only two streams on the blaze and it was practically extinguished.

The second cabin presented a dismal appearance when the smoke lifted. Its walls and gilded fittings were smudged and dark, its costly rugs and carpets sodden, its furniture scorched, blackened and broken.

Longshoremen on Strike

The damage to the second cabin, according to hasty estimate, was greater than that to the provision room and hold, although only painstaking examination could reveal the extent to which the vessel had suffered. It was said that the Imperator's sailing tomorrow might be extended. She arrived here yesterday.

One thousand longshoremen employed by the Hamburg-American line, the Imperator's owners, went on strike 48 hours before the vessel's arrival. Their places were filled by men from Brooklyn docks and the strikers were told they would not be taken back. Officers of the line said, however, that they believed the fire was in no way connected with the strike. Somebody's carelessness, they thought, was to blame.

The Imperator has suffered several mishaps since her launching. May 23, 1912, her maiden trip was postponed from month to month, first because she ran aground and then because of trouble with her turbines.

Seaman Was Revived

The seaman, thought to be dead when he was found, was revived at a hospital. He is seriously injured.

Officials of the line estimated that the damage to the vessel itself would not be great. Great quantities of supplies were made useless, however, by the flames, smoke and water. Nearly 2,000,000 gallons of water were poured on the fire. The company announced that the ship would be repaired so far as possible at sea.

MATRIMONIAL

Mr. John Francis Dwyer of Jersey City, N. J., and Miss Gertrude Helene Donehue, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John T. Donehue, 391 Bridge street, were united in marriage yesterday afternoon, the ceremony being performed at St. Michael's rectory by Rev. Dennis J. Murphy. The happy couple were attended by a sister of the bride, Miss Alice Donehue, and Mr. Joseph Crotty of Jersey City. At the conclusion of the ceremony a reception was held at the home of the bride's parents, and in the evening Mr. and Mrs. Dwyer left on a wedding tour to Montreal, Quebec and Niagara Falls. They will be at home to their friends at 37 Monticello street, Jersey City, N. J., after Oct. 1.

GLYNN RECOGNIZED AS ACTING GOVERNOR

ALBANY, N. Y., Aug. 28.—Lieut. Gov. Martin H. Glynn was formally recognized as acting governor by the assembly early this morning after a bitter debate. The vote in favor of such recognition stood 48 for to 29 against.

Democratic leaders were prepared today to complete the formalities which will seat Lieut. Gov. Glynn as acting governor. They also hope to clear up the entire business pending before the extraordinary session and take a recess until Sept. 15. All the democratic leaders express resentment at charges affecting the integrity of some of the legislators in the impeachment proceedings and asserted that some of the alleged-maligners would be brought before the bar of the assembly before sundown.

AUGUST 12 WAS RED LETTER DAY

In Baseball History—Day Marked
by Sequence of Unusual Events
and Performances

NEW YORK, Aug. 28.—A sequence of unusual events and performances marked Tuesday, Aug. 12, as a red letter day in baseball history. William Whitaker of the Keokuk Central association team pitched 21 consecutive scoreless innings in a double-header between Waterloo and Keokuk teams. But five hits were made off Whitaker and his team won both games by a 1 to 0 score. The first game went nine innings and the second 12. In major league baseball, Reulbach of the Chicago Cubs, on Sept. 26, 1908, pitched a double-header consisting of two nine-inning games against Brooklyn winning both without giving the Surber a run. During the same year Walter Johnson of the Washington club shut out the New York Americans on Sept. 4, 5 and 7, pitched 27 consecutive innings without allowing a run.

"Bill" Powers Some Pitcher

While Whitaker was performing at Keokuk, William Powers, of the New London club of the Eastern association was pitching a double-header of 18 innings in which he shut out the New Haven team without a run and allowed but eight hits. At the same hour the Toronto and Jersey City clubs of the International league, were playing a 29-inning scoreless game in which Pitcher Heane of the Toronto club, twirled the full distance, allowing but six hits.

Minor league history shows that this 29-inning scoreless game was duplicated by the Cleburne and Fort Worth clubs of the Texas league on July 17, 1906, when, as in the case of Jersey City and Toronto, the game was called on account of darkness after the 20th inning.

The chronicles of the day's unusual baseball features do not end with these feats. Aug. 12 marked the 17th anniversary of Napoleon Lajoie's entry into big league baseball. It was also Christy Mathewson's 33rd birthday and he celebrated by being a material factor in the Giants' victory over the Brooklyn club in an 11-inning game. The National baseball commission took advantage of the occasion to get into the limelight with a ruling to the effect that a baseball player who owed another money in the form of a personal debt could be suspended from organized baseball until such time as he paid the debt.

Although a day late, Pitcher Hedgepeth of the Richmond club of the Virginia league performed a spectacular twirling feat on Aug. 12, when he defeated in both games of a double-header against Petersburg, allowing one hit, three bases on balls and no runs. Hedgepeth, who is slated for the Washington Americans, was opposed in the first game by Pitcher Ayres, who until defeated by Hedgepeth, had a record of 13 straight victories. Ayres will also join the Washington club this fall.

With English Golfers

With English golfers in all three national championship tournaments this autumn the play for amateur, open and woman's titles takes an added interest. According to the latest reports, Abo Mitchell will compete in both the amateur and open; Miss Muriel Dodd, present woman champion of Great Britain, and Miss Ravenscroft, 1912 champion, in the women's titular tourney; Harry Vardon, Wilfrid Reid and Edward Ray in the open. There is early evidence that the title-seeking golfers, aided by the French trio, will attract unusual attention to the competition at Garden City, Brookline and Wilmington.

Large entry lists are predicted for both the amateur and open. The entire week, September 1-8, will be devoted to amateur tournament. A record entry is also expected for the open competition and the play will in all probability require four instead of two days as originally planned. It is believed that many of the United States professionals will avail themselves of the opportunity to enter with the idea of watching the famous foreign players in action, rather than the hope of securing a place in the final rounds.

Planning for Another Year

With the finish of the 1913 pennant races in sight the magnates of the big league clubs are already planning for another year's campaign. The efforts to strengthen various teams in both the National and American leagues go on apace accompanied by the usual reports of trades, shake-ups and managerial changes. Dime Honor can always find ready listeners in the baseball world and almost every club except the flag winning combinations come in for a share of her attention. Among those managers who are reported to be the balancing of the field director's crown a new ranking feat are Evers of the Chicago Nationals; Callahan of the Chicago White Sox; Carrigan of the Boston Red Sox; Dahlgren of the Brooklyn Nationals; Stovall of the St. Louis Browns, and Tinker of the Cincinnati club.

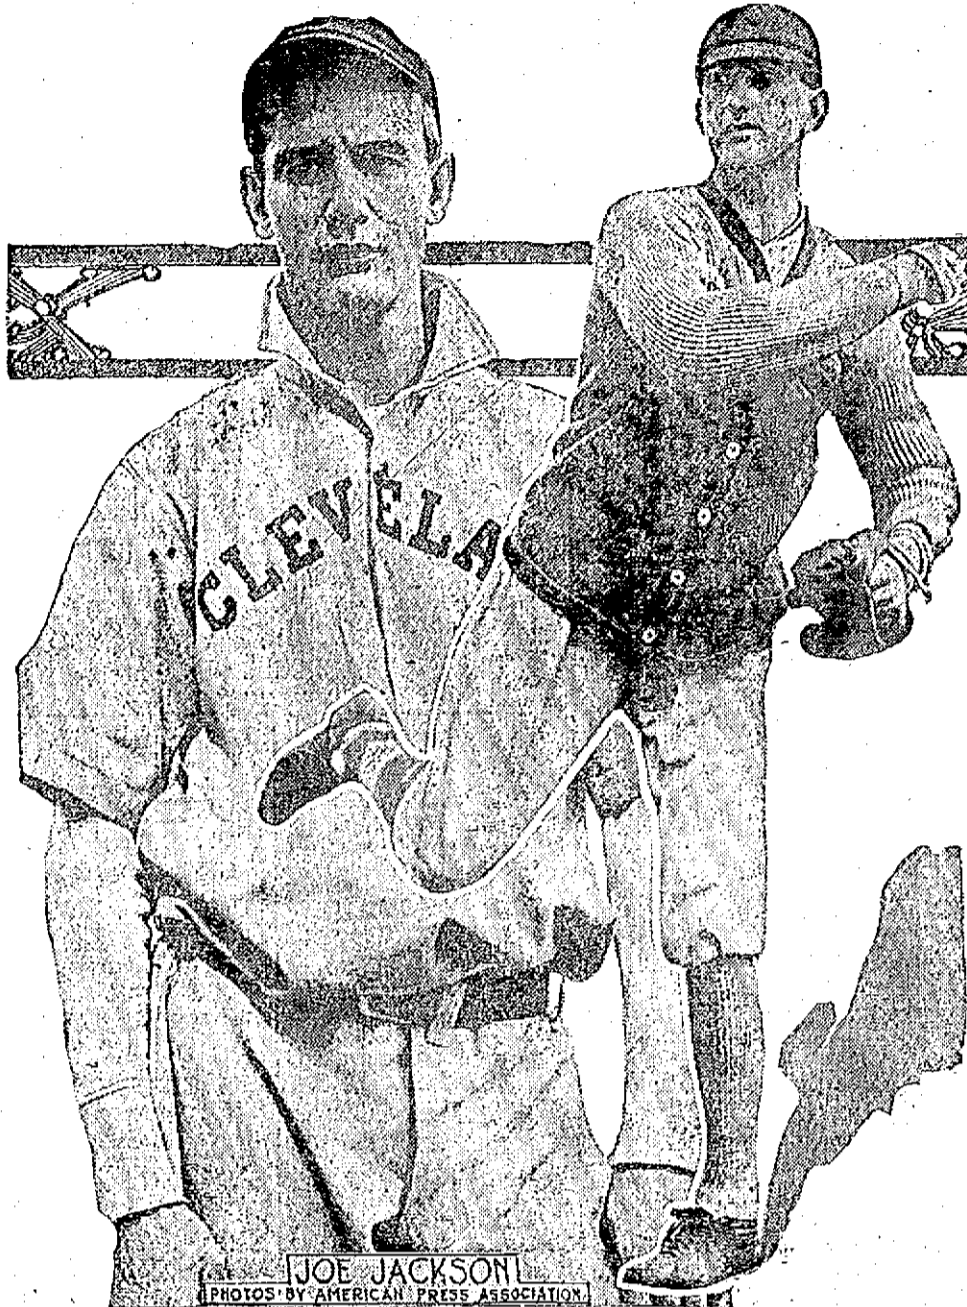

In several cases successors for the present managers have been tentatively named by underground gossip. Brenahan is said to be in line for Evers' position; Stahl named for Callahan's place and George McBride slated to fill Carrigan's shoes. Lord and Chase are also said to be willing to help Commissioner in the task of unifying the White Sox. Apparently John McGraw and Connie Mack are the only managers who appear to be sure of their positions at this time, if rumors are to be believed.

Cricket Club of London

An interesting addition to the international contests of the year should develop in the coming American tour of the famous Incegnitt Cricket Club of London. This organization of amateur cricketers holds a unique position in the cricket circles of England. Composed exclusively of gentlemen players, the club was formed in 1861 with a membership originally fixed at 100, raised to 150 in 1869, increased to 175 in 1911, and now limited to 200 members. There is a large waiting list of applicants for membership, for Incegnitt is a social as well as a cricketing club. The members do not play for gate money, and are paying their own expenses during the tour of the United States and Canada.

The 13 players who compose the team are all cricketers of approved ability, being members of either the leading school, university or county club eleven. Cambridge and Oxford universities are both well represented as are Eton, Harrow and Rugby schools. Among those who will stand before the wickets are: Col. C. E. Greenway, B. P. Dobson, E. J. Metcalfe, Capt. W. G. M. Sarsel, C. L. Tudor, G. V. Munnilland, Michael Falcon, B. C. Von B. Yello, G. R. R. Colman, D. M. P. Whitcombe, Phillip Collins.

The schedule is arranged at present calls for five matches, four to be played in the east and one in Canada. The dates are as follows: September 6-8, Gentlemen of Philadelphia at Haverford, Pa.; September 9-10, New York Veterans at Livingston, N. Y.; September 12-13, Gentlemen of Philadelphia at Manhattan, Pa.; September 17-18, Toronto Zingari at Toronto, Ont.; September 20-22, Gentlemen of Philadelphia at St. Martins, Pa.

JOE JACKSON HEADS BOTH BIG LEAGUES
WITH THE BEST BATTING AVERAGEJOE JACKSON

CLEVELAND, Aug. 28.—Joe Jackson, leader in batting average of both big leagues, is a tower of strength for the Cleveland Naps. His brawny bat has done much to put the team second in the American league race. At the publication of the last standing of the players Jackson headed his league with an average of .355, eight points ahead of the great Ty Cobb and twenty-eight points ahead of the third man, Tris Speaker of the world's champions. Jackson up to that time had played in 113 games and made 157 hits. Yinging of Brooklyn is high man in the National league with a percentage of .348 for thirty-eight games. Daubert of Brooklyn is the real leader with .355 for 106 games.

PALACE OF PEACE DEDICATED

Gay Decorations in Honor of the
Ceremonies—Many Diplomats
Present

THE HAGUE, Aug. 28.—The capital is gaily decorated today in honor of the ceremonies incident to the dedication of the Palace of Peace, Andrew Carnegie's magnificent gift as a home for the permanent court of arbitration. Many notable men, principally diplomats, have arrived from other countries to attend the ceremonies. The American minister to the Netherlands, Lloyd Bryce, Mr. and Mrs. Carnegie, and other notables are among the distinguished notables here.

Brazil has sent the warship Benjamin Constant to Amsterdam, and her officers are in attendance on the ceremonies of dedication.

At a garden party and reception tomorrow the British minister will unveil the statue of Edward VII, and Mr. Carnegie will unveil the statue of Sir Randall Cremer, the great peace advocate.

The Palace of Peace, which was dedicated with impressive ceremonies today, is the gift of Andrew Carnegie, who, in 1903, placed at the disposal of the Dutch government the sum of $1,500,000 for the purpose, as expressed in his offer, "of erecting and maintaining at The Hague a court house and library for the permanent court of arbitration established by the treaty of the 29th of July, 1899."

enings, and the corner stone was laid July 30, 1907.

A world-wide competition for plans and designs for the Peace Palace was established, and the first prize was awarded to M. Cordonnier, a Brussels architect. The building as completed, however, does not represent the original plans, the Carnegie committee having reserved the right to modify all designs. With Mr. Cordonnier's plans for a foundation, Mr. van der Steur was appointed to carry out the modified design and remained in direct control of this work until the completion of the building.

The Palace of Peace as completed does not represent any precise style of architecture, but it is regarded by architects as one of the most impressive buildings to be seen in Europe. Rectangular in shape, it forms roughly a square of 55 yards by 55 yards, and encloses a beautiful formal garden. On three sides the building constitutes the court house, and on the fourth or west side are the quarters of the library. The facade of the second floor is adorned with statues, the figures representing science, agriculture, art, navigation, commerce, industry, concord, eloquence, will force, study, authority, humanity, constancy and wisdom.

To provide a site for this, the first structure ever erected for such a purpose, the Dutch government appropriated $275,000. The site selected is in a section of wooded and hilly park stretching from The Hague to Scheveningen.

AMUSEMENT NOTES

Lakerview Park
The float nights at Lake Massacupp, which have proven so attractive to hundreds this summer, will be continued tonight, when dozens of pretty craft will flit across the lake, trimmed with lighted lanterns and with bunting. All who have witnessed this unique sight will want to see the show tonight, which will, in some respects be one of the best of the year. The open air performance will be given on the same time as usual. Martin and Ganett, two western strong men, have their comedy acrobatic stunt, which winds up with a trick automobile piece of work. The pair are generally good. There ought to be a big advance sale for the lectures to be delivered in the theatre by Dr. John C. Bowler, the noted public speaker who, beginning Sept. 8, will speak twice daily. In the afternoon he will speak on Mexico, while at night the Passion play at Oberammergau, Bavaria, will be delineated. He has many hundred striking stereopticon views to illustrate his lectures. The charge will be 15 and 25 cents.

B. F. Keith Theatre

The snappy opening bill of the season at the B. F. Keith theatre is doing an excellent business, as it well deserves. It is a colorful show, and one which has all of the elements that go to make a top-line act. "From Coney Island to the North Pole" played by Arthur Layne and a company of eight, including a bevy of girls. Other good things are: Jennings and Wilson, blackface comedians; that Versatile Trio, male singers; Flo and Arlie Walters, singers and dancers; the Braminos, instrumentalists; Rio and Norman, athletes; "The Toll Bridge," a rural comedy; and the Pathe weekly, a collection of motion pictures taken from all over the world.

Opera House

The Opera house, which has been thoroughly renovated, will reopen its doors next Monday (Labor Day), with the latest and best in motion pictures as the opening attraction. All the necessary equipment for this most popular form of amusement has been installed, the management going to the great expense of placing a "Recit" machine used by all the leading theatres of this country where perfect pictures are shown. The policy of the house will be to play all feature pictures during the coming season, giving way to the high-class road attractions only. The prices have been carefully considered so as to be within the reach of all, namely, 5c. for children and 10c. for adults. Matinees will be given every afternoon from 2 to 5, and two complete evening performances at 7 and 8.45. No efforts will be spared to make this entertainment most pleasing to the patrons of this most popular playhouse.

Athletes and Athletics

Ladies' day will be held at the ball park Friday. Manager Gray has made up every rainy Wednesday to the members of the fair sex who support the team.

Tomorrow a delegation of a hundred youngsters from the playgrounds will be entertained by the baseball management. The last time that the club entertained a crowd of juveniles we went down to defeat, but we fondly hope that this fact is no prophecy on tomorrow's contests.

Hartford will probably win the pennant in the Eastern association race. The fans in the Connecticut city are shouting for a post season series with the winner of the New England league flag and will doubtless get it if Lowell lands the flag.

Porky Flynn got his clean breaks, but he would have been fully as well off without them. It was one of Langford's little jokes to hang out for hitting in the clinches. Although Sam was overweight and fat, boxing critics consider that the "Boston Tar Baby" can whip any man in the world.

Dartmouth will get two wonderful colored truck men this fall in Howard Drew and Irving Howe. Drew is considered one of the greatest if not the fastest century man who ever pulled on a spiked shoe, while Howe is also a flier of marked ability. Howe is also a good football man and will add strength to the pigskin squad of the New Hampshire college.

With the boxing season drawing near plans for the first indoor meeting of the Triangle A. A. are already under way. The matchmaker has not as yet decided upon a card but the opening show will be a hummer.

At last articles have been signed by Willie Ritchie and Freddie Welch of England for their long talked of twenty round bout. The fight will take place in Vancouver on September 20th. Welch has been chasing the champion ever since he pulled the title away from Ad Wolgast and has many backers throughout the country.

Patsy Flaherty laced out a home run in yesterday's game between Fall River and Lynn that could have counted for two. The ball was not returned to the diamond until the Lynn manager was comfortably seated on the home team's bench.

Mordecai Brown, the three fingered twirler who is now working for Cincinnati gave the Giants a bad nine innings yesterday. Neither New York pinch hitters nor McGraw's strategy could stave off a 5 to 1 defeat for the leaders of the National league race.

Worcester crept up a notch in the race by their win over New Bedford but are still a game behind. Burket is doing his best to bolster up his club for the coming two weeks' struggle. Maloy, an ex-Red Sox, twirled yesterday's game.

"Vic" Safer's home town, Lansing, Michigan, will be given a chance to see their hero perform on September 3d when the Cubs play there. Safer is one of the most promising youngsters in the big show and is playing a wonderful game for the Chicago club. Yesterday he climbed over the first base bleacher rail and grabbed a foul fly.

Thirdbaseman Herzog, one of the scrappiest players the game has ever produced, will probably be sent to the Cardinals in exchange for Pitcher Geyer. McGraw has had a lot of trouble with his third sacker, but the rumor to the effect that he would ship his Hebrew infield took the New York fans by surprise. Nothing definite has been announced as yet.

The Red Sox got but five hits off Johnson yesterday when they played the Syracuse club an exhibition game. The Boston team lost out by an 8 to 1 score and were lucky to score. This same pitcher defeated the Giants a few weeks ago. It is reported that McGraw already has him under contract.

Manager Stallings of the Braves has been called to the bedside of his wife at their home in Buffalo and will not return to his duties until she is out of danger. Captain Sweeney is now in command of the outfit. Stallings is now under suspension, but President Lynch has announced that the ban will be lifted this week.

MUDDLED CONDITION

New York's Political Situation Complicated

NEW YORK, Aug. 8.—A muddled political situation was further complicated yesterday with the authorized declaration from Mayor Gaynor that he would run for re-election on an independent ticket. New York thus finds itself with three democrats as candidates for mayor, Tammany Hall last week designated Edward E. McCull, chairman of the public service commission, after refusing Mr. Gaynor a re-nomination while the Fusionists selected John Purroy Mitchell, collector of the port.

Interest last night centered on the question of whom Mayor Gaynor's advisors will choose as his running mates. Should they, as many appear to expect, ask two of Mr. Mitchell's fusion colleagues—William A. Prendergast (progressive) for city controller, and George McNaney, for president of the board of aldermen—to allow their names to be placed on the Gaynor ticket, it is said to be certain that the fusion leaders will demand that the two decline to accept.

In possible anticipation of such a move by those in charge of Mayor Gaynor's campaign, Theodore Roosevelt today called to Mr. Prendergast in Germany urging him to assure the fusionists that he would not run "on any ticket on which Mitchell or the other fusion candidates for city offices are left off."

Mr. Roosevelt cited the example of Mr. Mitchell in refusing the proffered independence league designation on the ground that the league had not endorsed Mr. Prendergast and Mr. McNaney. The colonel said that the fusion candidates should show that this is a straight fight against Tammany and for principle, and not a scramble for office.

Charles S. Whitman will run for district attorney, his present office, on the fusion, republican, progressive, independence league and Tammany tickets. He announced tonight his acceptance of the Tammany endorsement tendered him last night. Some of the fusion leaders had urged him not to accept. William S. Bennett, a former republican congressman, announced last night after conferring with Herman Ridder, democrat, and others opposed to Mr. Mitchell, that a movement will be begun at once to have Mayor Gaynor's name placed by petition.

MAYOR HURLEY AGAIN ON DECK

He Talks of the Salem Government and Tells How He Plays Politics 365 Days in the Year

Mayor John Fortune Hurley of Salem, Mass., was in line in today's parade with the members of the White Angel Veterans' association of which he is a member. The distinguished visitor left the ranks at city hall and was escorted into the mayor's reception room by City Messenger Owen Monahan, and later introduced to the commissioners and newspaper men.

In an interview with the writer, Mayor Hurley spoke at length on the new form of government which was recently adopted by the voters of Salem, which is somewhat similar to that now in force in this city. He said the residents of Salem would not want to return to the old style of government.

Under the new government the mayor is elected for three years with a salary of $2500 a year, while the four commissioners are put in office for one and two years, with a salary of $2000 a year. He said the heads of the various departments are appointed by the commissioner in charge of each department, and may be removed at will. The only city officials elected by the council are the city clerk, the purchasing agent and the three assessors, and they are subject to removal at any time the council sees fit to elect someone in their place, for their term of office is unlimited.

The commissioners in the city council with Mayor Hurley are Charles Danford, in charge of the department of finance; E. J. Kelly, public works department; Wallace L. Gifford, public property; William H. Colbert, poor and health department. The mayor has charge of the public safety department which consists of the fire department, police and wire departments.

Mayor Hurley said the members of the council meet every Thursday afternoon in the mayor's office, and there they discuss matters which are to be brought before the meeting, which is held on the Friday. They decide upon matters between themselves, and when the business is brought before the regular meeting all is settled in a very short time.

The visitor has served as mayor of Salem in 1901-02-03-04, and is now serving a three-year term, but he says this is his last term, for he is to retire from public life when he has completed his three years as mayor under the new charter. He said this charter was adopted with the intention of defeating Hurley, but he wanted to show them that Hurley was not to be put aside as easily as all that, and the result was that he was elected with a big majority.

"In Salem," said Mayor Hurley, "we have the finest contagious hospital that can be seen in the state. The building was formerly utilized as a wing for the almshouse, but when this institution came under the control of the state, the city retained the wing and converted the same into a contagious hospital. It is almost in the heart of the city and no one complains about it."

"This year we raised the tax limit from $12 to $13, but next year we shall go back to the old limit. The tax rate this year has also gone up $2, and it is now $20.50 per thousand. The population of Salem is 56,000, and there is no license, but nevertheless we get along finely, and the government is able to meet all current expenses."

Relative to his election, Mayor Hurley said the trouble with most of the politicians is that they play politics just a short time before elections, while he plays politics 365 days in the year and nights besides. He said a few years ago he went to Ireland, and

NOTES FROM CITY HALL

Permit to Build a Bungalow

Mrs. Arthur P. Farrington was granted a permit by the superintendent of public buildings this morning for the erection of a bungalow at 68 Sheldon street, the approximate cost to be $2000.

Supt. Connors of the public buildings department announced this morning that work is progressing on the installation of new closets at the High school, and that everything will be completed for the opening of the school in a few days.

Commissioner Barrett is pushing the work on the installation of the 24 inch water main in the bed of the Merrimack river and already about 650 feet of the big pipe has been installed.

Supt. Thomas of the water department is enjoying a vacation of a few days at Hampton beach. He will be back on duty Monday.

On account of the firemen's muster on the sixth common, all departments at city hall with the exception of the board of health office, closed at noon and the employees are given a half holiday.

HOSPITAL ASSOCIATION

Discusses Plans for Enlarging its Work

BOSTON, Aug. 25.—Plans for enlarging the work and influence of the American Hospital Association were discussed yesterday afternoon at the annual convention of that body in the Copley-Plaza hotel.

The subject was opened by E. P. Haworth, superintendent of the Willows Maternity Sanitarium, Kansas City, Mo. In an address showing what the association could do for the hospitals of America, he claimed that its membership should consist of hospitals, not of persons, and that it should have permanent headquarters, a paid secretary and a journal of its own.

"The association," he said, "ought to develop a uniform system of cost accounting and work for the standardization of staple medical and surgical supplies used by hospitals. It should also formulate a code of ethics to be observed by hospitals in their relation to the physicians, the professional nurses, the public, and another. We also need some systematic course of education started to encourage young women to follow nursing as a profession."

After a brief general discussion of the recommendations, it was voted to refer them to a committee of which G. W. Olson, superintendent of the Swedish hospital in Minneapolis, will be chairman.

A paper favoring the employment of third-year pupils as special nurses was read by Miss Mary Alberta Baker, superintendent of St. Luke's hospital, Jacksonville, Fla., and discussed by Miss Nora D. Abbe of the Samaritan hospital, Ashland.

At the morning session, held in the out-patient department of the Massachusetts General hospital, Dr. John Allan Horsbry of Chicago urged the inspection and standardization of hospitals, the subject being also discussed by Dr. Ernest A. Codman.

The report on hospital construction was presented by Dr. John M. Peters, superintendent of the Rhode Island hospital at Providence. An account of record keeping at the Massachusetts General hospital was given by Dr. Bryan Hollings.

The small hospitals section, which also met in the morning, discussed means for making small hospitals self-supporting, with G. W. Olson as the chief speaker, and "Ambulance Service for Small Hospitals," as outlined by Miss Margaret M. Moore, superintendent of Jackson City hospital at Jackson, Mich.

The evening session was given to a "round table" on miscellaneous hospital topics. In the discussion on the employment of nurses as anesthetists opposing views were expressed, some of the speakers maintaining that anesthetics should be given by a physician, others asserting that the trained nurse was qualified to administer them. On a show of hands in an audience of about 400 it appeared that in 29 of the hospitals represented either is given by the nurses. It was also brought out that 23 of the hospitals have trained instructors and that in 30 the anti-phosph vaccine is given to the nurses.

From Sky to River
FALL RIVER, Aug. 25.—The falling of a meteor from the sky into the waters of the Seaconnet river, churning up the waters in the vicinity, is reported from Fall River, six miles from here, as having caused great excitement.

Those who chanced to be eye-witnesses say that when the meteor fell from the sky, it was of great volume, and the explosion that accompanied sounded like the firing of a 12-inch gun.

THE MAJORITY LEADER

Will Prosecute Sulzer's Close Friend

ALBANY, N. Y., Aug. 25.—Majority Leader Levy of the senate today announced his intention of prosecuting Linn J. Arnold, Governor Sulzer's close friend for charging that Levy accepted a $500 bribe from former State Engineer Sikes.

Mr. Levy said he also would sue the Knickerbocker Press, Arnold's paper, for a large amount.

Carrying out their announced intention, the assembly judiciary committee met this morning and had before it James C. Garrison charged with making public statements that money had been used to influence the votes of certain assemblymen in favor of the impeachment.

Mr. Garrison declined to answer any questions unless permitted opportunity to consult counsel as to the jurisdiction of the committee. This opportunity was afforded him and the committee adjourned until two o'clock this afternoon, when Mr. Garrison was instructed to return with counsel.

A Minimum Loss
WASHINGTON, Aug. 25.—The forest service today declared that loss from fires among growing timber so far this year has been kept to a minimum. Only two states, Massachusetts and Maine, says the report, have thus far found it necessary because of extra serious fire hazard to call upon the emergency provisions of their agreement with the federal government.

One of the out-of-town veterans had dinner at one of the local restaurants, and upon leaving was heard to remark that the dinner was the best he ever had for the price paid.

BIG GATHERING AT BIRTHPLACE OF WEBSTER

FRANKLIN, N. H., Aug. 28.—Commemorative exercises at the birthplace of Daniel Webster, together with the formal opening of the restored Webster farm, were begun today and will be concluded tomorrow. Several thousand people from neighboring cities and towns in central New Hampshire composed the main portion of the gathering while the formal exercises included addresses by a number of well known speakers.

TO SAVE $250,000 A YEAR

WASHINGTON, Aug. 28.—Postmaster General Bursleson today signed an order which provides that precancelled postage stamps may be sold to the public and after September 16. Precancelled stamps have printed upon them the name of the postoffice before they are sold. Such stamps will be valid for postage on second, third and fourth-class mail—news-papers and magazines mailed by the public, books and other printed matter and merchandise or parcel post matter.

The stamps will be recognized only at the office named on them. By their use not only will the transportation and delivery of mail bearing them be expedited greatly, but it is estimated that the government will save on expense of labor in cancellation $250,000 a year.

Precancelled stamps, however, may not be used on letters of other sealed mail matter, which, under the law, must bear the date of mailing.

DIARIO OFFICIAL

The Mexican Government Organ Publishes Documents Connected With Lind's Mission

MEXICO CITY, Aug. 28.—All documents connected with John Lind's mission in Mexico City are published today in the Diario Oficial, the Mexican government organ, in their proper chronological order. They consist of the original declarations of President Wilson which were quoted yesterday in the president's message and of the reply to John Lind made by Federico Gamboa, Mexican secretary of state for foreign affairs on Aug. 16 which was published in Washington contemporan-ously with the president's message and of Mr. Lind's second note of Aug. 23.

President Wilson's special message to congress and the note of Senor Gamboa have already been made public.

TYPHOID FEVER
Traced to Swimming Pools—Majority of Patients Found to Have Frequented Baths
ST. LOUIS, Aug. 25.—Dr. C. M. Stark, of the city health department yesterday investigated 64 cases of typhoid fever in St. Louis and found that 15 per cent of the patients had frequented public or private swimming pools. Forty-two per cent of the patients had taken vacations in the country or small towns and while there drank well or spring water. Twenty-five per cent had been on steamboat excursions.

The city bacteriologist said that bacteria found in water taken from city swimming pools were not typhoid bacteria but colon bacteria which cause a disease often mistaken for typhoid and equally dangerous.

PROCEEDINGS

This is a matter of the wages and hours of the car men. The city is not concerned with either, but for some reason best known to himself Mayor Fitzgerald wants to take a hand in these proceedings.

Feeney Accuses Mayor

A pointed charge that the mayor, in asking the corporation counsel's assistance to appear before the board, was working in the interests of the Boston Elevated company was made by Attorney John P. Feeney.

"There are only two sides to this question," he said, addressing the arbitrators. "One is the side of the city of Boston, to help our side, so it naturally follows that it must want to help the other side."

Chairman Storror's statement declining to enter Walsh as counsel was as follows:

"The arbitrators have considered the request of Richard M. Walsh made at yesterday's hearing, that his appearance as counsel as representing the city of Boston be entered and made a matter of record.

"The arbitrators call attention to the fact that this board of arbitrators has been created by and would not be in existence except by virtue of an agreement of July 8, 1913, between the Boston Elevated company and the Amalgamated Association of Street and Electric Railway Employees and division thereof.

"The evidence which each side wishes to put in might have been presented to the arbitrators privately. It seemed to the arbitrators, on the whole, more desirable that it should be presented in open session, and that the public and the representatives of the newspapers should have an opportunity to hear the evidence, and the parties concerned here had to have this course taken. This, however, does not mean that this board created by its agreement of July 8, 1913, has any authority to permit someone not a party to the agreement to be represented by counsel or to take part in the proceedings. It is for the two parties who have created this tribunal for the purpose of deciding their differences, to present such evidence and make such arguments as they please on their respective sides of the matters in controversy. If either of the two parties to the agreement objects to a third party coming into the proceedings the arbitrators feel that they have no authority to permit the third party to intervene.

Resuming the stand in the afternoon he told how motors on cars had been speeded up since 1897. On the routes picked out by Mr. Feeney there were no cars running now that did not run faster than cars on the same routes in 1897.

"Does not higher speed put greater responsibility on the motorman?" asked Mr. Feeney.

Motorman's Work Easier

"No," was the unexpected reply.

A FLOURISHING TRADE

In Public Books and Documents

WASHINGTON, Aug. 28.—A flourishing trade in public books and documents printed by the government for members of congress was revealed today before the lobby house committee.

Allen Irvine, a document broker, called to impeach testimony against Rep. McDermott given by L. J. McMichael, who told names of congressmen from whom he bought public documents.

Irvine testified he traded documents for members of the house and senate and bought from retiring members their quota of documents. He said McMichael had sold him documents, and he had traded with McDermott.

DEMOCRATIC LEADERS

Defeat Amendments to Tax on Incomes

WASHINGTON, Aug. 28.—Democratic leaders in the senate were able to defeat Senator La Follette's amendments to the tax on large incomes today only by indicating that they themselves were prepared to make concessions to carry increases. Senators Reed, Ashurst and Thompson, all democrats, voted with their party only after expressing their belief that they had been informed that a tax on incomes would be imposed only on those over $100,000. Senator La Follette's amendment would have taxed all incomes over $100,000 12 per cent. Democratic leaders did not indicate what their concessions would be.

Senator Bristow at once introduced another amendment, which he explained was calculated to fall heavier on incomes more than $50,000. The Bristow amendment was defeated strictly on party lines.
